Don Roy Davenport

March 14, 1941 - October 17, 2019

THE DAY GOD CALLED YOU HOME

God looked around his garden
And found an empty place,
He then looked down upon the earth
And saw your tired face.
He put his arms around you
And lifted you to rest.
God's garden must be beautiful
He always takes the best.
He knew that you were suffering
He knew you were in pain.
He knew that you would never Get well on earth again.
He saw the road was getting rough
And the hills were hard to climb.
So he closed your weary eyelids
And whispered, 'Peace be Thine'.
It broke our hearts to lose you
But you didn't go alone,
For part of us went with you
The day God called you home

What price for the promise,
For the flash of the fish
Sliding through the dark water
As it's bent to your wish?

What price for the calm
Of the water's restored
When the fish's been caught
And you sit still once more?

What price for the rays
In the heat of the day
When old bones are warmed
And Children run and play?

What price for an evening
And the setting of sun,
When tired bones can rest
And the day's work is done?

What price for the night
When all's quiet and still,
With only the shrill call
Of a lonesome Whip O' Will?

What price for the morn
When sleepers again arise,
To another day's dawning
to get another sunrise?
