

Edward Carney, 25, local grocer, died at 9:30 Monday morning to bring to three the fatalities which resulted from an automobile accident between Fayetteville and Greenland Sunday evening. W. D. Shanks, 50 and Mack Dye, 51, both of West Fork, were killed instantly. Shanks was found lying face-downward in the ditch, about ten feet from the car, head crushed. Carney and Dye were found along the highway a short distance away. Dye's principal injuries were to his head and Carney's back was injured. The car was headed south when it overturned from an unestablished cause, coming to rest in an upright position on the side of the shoulder without having left the embankment. Carney was buried here Tuesday afternoon from the Cumberland church with Rev. F. A. Bell in charge.
