!NOTES: "Thompson was born in Loudon-Kingston Community of what was then Knox County, Tennessee, or perhaps it was still North Carolina. When he was 22 years old he moved with his parents to Oak Hill, Overton County, Tennessee. He married Martha "Susan" Copeland in about 1810. Susan was the daughter of Col. Stephen Copeland, a revolutionary soldier. Eleven children were born, 5 boys and 6 girls, in Oak Hill before Thompson moved to Jasper, Marion County, Tennessee in 1834. Three additional children were born between 1835 and 1840. The middle one was my grandfather, Thompson Verne, born in 1837. What happened to Martha has not been determined. However, she may have moved to Arkansas and remarried. Thompson married a second time to Matilda Medows. For some strange reason, five of the brothers, and two of the sisters migrated to Walnut Ridge area of Lawrence County, Arkansas about 1845. They joined their oldest brother, Jacob, who had moved to Arkansas in the mid 1930's directly from Overton County, TN. My grandfather and his younger sister, Louisa, were raised by their older sister Racheal, who married Wash Jackson, and are shown in that household in the 1850 census of Franklin County, Tennessee. Sometime in the 1850's the family moved to Lawrence County, Arkansas. My father, Jefferson Thompson was unaware of Thompson's second family. The 1850 Census of Marion County, Tennessee shows Thompson with four children and his wife Matilda. One child, Martin was from the previous marriage. After Thompson's death in 1853, Matilda moved back to her original home in Trenton, Dade County, Georgia. She is listed in the 1860 and 1870 census in Georgia and died in Trenton in 1877." (By Lawrence W Gardenhire)

!NOTES: In a court case of 18 Apr 1825 held in circuit court of McMin County, Tennessee involving Thompson and his brother William, they are identified as "late of this county" which would indicate that they were not in McMinn County at the date of trial. They are accused of entering into a conspiracy against one William Dennis of McMinn County, accusing him of stealing some hogs in Overton County owned by Temp Upton.

!NOTES: In a court case on 3 July 1841 district court in Pikeville, Bledsoe County, Tennessee Thompson Gardenhire was accused of turning over property to his two son-in-laws, James M. Carrol and Edward Holloway in order to avoid paying bond indebtedness. The land was 400 acres in Ocoe district which Thompson had entered and paid for, supposedly valuable land, and conveyed to James M Carrol, his son-in-law for $1500. It was also shown that Thompson owned and operated a valuable ferry property, across the Tennessee River. Carrol stated that he intermarried in the family on 24 March 1839. George W. Gardenhire, age 24, gave evidence, and stated that Thompson Gardenhire came into this county as well he could recollect in 1831 or 1832." (By Lawrence W. Gardenhire)

By LEON ALLIGOOD

LIVINGSTON, Tenn. — The sun rises white and inviting as it crests the steep hills of Overton County on this cold February day, offering hope for a respite from winter's gray doldrums.

In room 50 at the Overton County Nursing Home, Grace Bilbrey, one week from celebrating her 106th birthday, has been awake since before first light. She has washed and dressed, choosing to wear a pair of gray slacks, a red blouse with ruffles at the neck, and a gray vest. On her ears are thin hoops of gold. On her feet are pink, fuzzy slippers.

Before settling into a cushioned chair to await the delivery of breakfast, Bilbrey makes her bed, tugging and tucking the light pink spread until its surface and sides meet her wrinkle-free expectations.

Celebrating a century.

She can tolerate the infirmities of old age, but the woman has never been comfortable around an unkempt bed.

"If you're not sleeping, it ought to be made," she says.

Strains of a Beethoven symphony begin playing on the public address system in the hallway, an aural cue that food is being served. Breakfast arrives at room 50 a few minutes later, a repast that includes bacon (four strips, crisp), two eggs (scrambled), oatmeal (to which she stirs in two sugar packets), a biscuit and apple juice. Cholesterol isn't in her vocabulary, nor is it her doctor's primary worry for his oldest patient.

"When they get to be as old as Miss Grace you treat them like fine antiques. You just admire and don't touch," observes Dr. Michael Cox, making his rounds.

There is one other item on Bilbrey's breakfast tray: a cup of canned peach slices.

"She has peaches for every meal," whispers Tony Palk, an administrator at the nursing home.

"What'd you say?" asks Bilbrey, turning toward him.

"I said, you love your peaches," Palk answers, his face a pale crimson at being overheard by the centenarian.

"Yes, I do. I eat 'em nearly every meal," the woman affirms.

So begins the 38,728th day in the life of Grace Copeland Bilbrey, daughter of Maywood and Loretta Copeland, wife of Earnest Bilbrey, mother of Evelyn and Ronald, grandmother to three, great-grandmother to four, aunt to many, great aunt to a passel, great-great aunt to several.

Today will be a busy day for the former shirt factory worker and school lunchroom cook. She will have her nails painted red, the color of blushing cheeks. The staff cosmetologist will comb and set her hair. Today, she will attend exercise class, eat vanilla ice cream with friends and take her daily walk down the nursing home's long corridors.

"I'm still here," she says, allowing that a daily ration of peaches could be the reason.

"Never know."

Six boys and two girls

She was born Feb. 14, 1899, the third of eight children.

"There were six boys and two girls. Me and Eunice were the girls. We came one after the other. I was the oldest," she says.

"The boys were Harold, Carl, John ... "

Her voice trails as her mind fails to scroll the list of her siblings. As with every occasion on this day when she has a senior moment, she laughs out loud, saying, "Well," with the inflection of a question.

Soon enough the names come to her.

"Joe, Paul and Lucian. Lucian will be 94 his next birthday."

She and her youngest brother, who also lives in Overton County, are the only ones alive.

"We grew up in Copeland Cove, out toward Monterey. We lived in the country for a long time. Daddy was in the timber business, had a sawmill," she says.

Before his death in 1957 at 86, Maywood Copeland also would serve as a deputy sheriff and own a country store.

By the time Bilbrey was born near the turn of the 20th century, her clan had been residing in Overton County for slightly more than 100 years. The earliest of her ancestors came to the area following the Revolutionary War after receiving a land grant.

"One of 'em was a man named Big Joe Copeland. They say he weighed 350 pounds."

Descendants of William COPELAND

He must have found something to eat here. He surely did," she says, chuckling.

In homage to their rotund predecessor, a boy in every other generation of the Copeland clan is named Joe, Bilbrey notes.

"I had a brother named Joe."

The Copelands worked hard, played hard and argued hard. Her father, according to a book of remembrances assembled several years ago by a network of cousins, was a staunch Democrat and a devout reader of The Saturday Evening Post. When all of their kids had grown, the elder Copelands moved to a large home near the courthouse square in Livingston. At Sunday afternoon dinners, following morning church services, it was not uncommon for a spirited debate to break out among those gathered at the table.

"Sometimes you could hear them arguing from over on the square," offers Julianne Lynn, Bilbrey's 81-year-old niece, who arrived during breakfast.

Bilbrey nods affirmatively.

She could argue with the best of them, Lynn says of her aunt.

"Uncle Earnest, who was the kindest man, would always tell her when she got riled, 'Now, now, Gracie,' " the niece says.

Grace Bilbrey met her man at church.

"We went to Bethlehem Methodist. He caught my eye, I expect so," she says, smiling. Bilbrey has blue eyes and a face creased with wrinkles, but no more than the faces of other residents who are 20 years younger.

The Bilbreys married in 1922 and except for a few years when they moved to Akron, Ohio, where Earnest worked at a tire factory, the couple lived in Livingston.

"He was a good man. He worked at Specks," she said, referring to a hardware store in town.

Earnest Bilbrey, seen in early photographs as lean, taller by a foot than his wife, lived until he was 55, when a brain tumor killed him. The year was 1950. Grace Bilbrey has lived by herself since then, save for years when her widowed mother joined her.

She never remarried and is never without her wedding ring on her left hand.

"He was the one I chose," she says.

Secret of living long

With her birthday approaching, Bilbrey has been asked many times her secret for longevity.

First of all, she doesn't believe 106 is all that extraordinary.

"I don't think it's long," she says.

"I don't know if there's a secret, not really. Just doing right, knowing what I should do and what I shouldn't. I believe in treating everybody right."

And not dwelling on the negative.

"There were some sad times. My husband died of a brain tumor, and then my son, Ronald, did, too. You just go on with life. I went to church and enjoyed the singing. I loved to sing the hymns," she says.

She also took great joy in cooking. For many years, her apple pies were perennial blue ribbon winners at the Overton County Fair. Somewhere, she says, there is a shoebox filled with them.

And there was solace to be found in dirt, growing a large vegetable garden and lots of flowers.

Having Valentine's Day as her birthday always got her special treatment, lots of cards, and sweet treats, she recalls. Her birthday treats made winter bearable, even today.

Congratulatory cards already are arriving for her 106th. She anticipates receiving a few signed letters from congressmen, state politicians, maybe even Willard Scott, the part-time NBC Today weatherman, and President Bush.

But she didn't vote for the incumbent president, she quickly adds.

"I'm Democrat, my Daddy was too," Bilbrey says.

She'll add the greetings to the other cards received since she turned 100 in 1999. They are scattered about her small room. A few are on the walls, but most are in drawers, along with her framed Mother's Day plaques given by the nursing home to recognize the oldest active mom. With her daughter, Evelyn, now in her 80s, Bilbrey is a shoe-in to win every year.

End of a busy day

It is late in the day. The sunrise, which offered the promise of a bright day, faded fast. Now the weather is gray and damp outside, the sky growing darker by the minute.

In room 50, Grace Bilbrey waits on dinner to be delivered. The day has been a busy one. Her fingernails have been painted; her hair coiffed. She went to group exercise, ate ice cream without guilt and took an afternoon walk through the halls. Now she's hungry.

Soon enough an orchestra is heard coming from the hallway speakers.

Dinner, including peaches, is served. Ernest Albert BILBREY and Grace Evelyn COPELAND had the following children:

Indictment, The State vs. Harris COPELAND, Murder

The State of Tennessee, Overton County, Criminal Court for said County, February, Term, 1916.

The Grand Jurors for the State of Tennessee, upon their oath, present that Harris COPELAND, heretofore, on the 11th day of December, 1916, in the county and state aforesaid, did unlawfully and feloniously, wilfully, maliciously, deliberately, premeditatedly, and of his malice aforethought, assault, shoot, wound and kill Billy LOOPER, and did so commit murder in the first degree upon the body of the said Billie Looper against the peace and dignity of the State.

W. R. Officer, Atty. Gen'l, 5th Dist. of Tennessee

21 Mar 1916, #110, The State vs. Harris COPELAND

Special Jurors - Grand Jury - J. O. MATTHEWS and Jno. Dailey GARRETT.

It appearing to the Court that J. H. BOSWELL, Foreman of the Grand Jury, and M. H. SPECK, another member of the Grand Jury for the present term, are incapacitated to serve as Grand Jurors in the above styled case on account of kinship to the deft. It is ordered that J. O. MATTHEWS be empaneled and sworn as Special Foreman and Jno. Daily GARRETT as a member of said Jury, both being Veniremen, regularly appointed to serve at this term of court, which was done.

21 June 1916, The State vs. Harris COPELAND, Murder

Came the Atty Gen'l for the State and the deft in property and by atty and the deft. waives formal arraignment and pleads not guilty.

The State vs. Harris COPELAND, Murder

Descendants of William COPELAND

Came the Atty. Gen'l for the State and the deft. in proper person. The deft having on a former day of this term waived formal arraignment and plead not guilty.

Then to try the issues joined between the State of Tennessee and the deft. upon a charge of murder, came the following jury of good and lawful men, citizens and residents of Overton Co, Tenn, and in all respects possessing the qualifications of jurors for this case, viz: W. M. WILLIAMS, J. S. RICHARDSON, T. A. SULLIVAN, Lee BILBREY, M. B. QUALLS, James WARDEN, E. M. PEEK, J. M. BRADY, Thomas MURPHY, John SEBER, J. H. WILLIAMS, J. T. GIBBONS, who being duly selected, empaneled and sworn as the law requires, and there not being time to complete the hearing of the testimony in this case on today, the said jury was respited until 8 o'clock tomorrow morning, under proper instructions from the court, and retired in charge of their legally sworn officer, M. H. WEEKS.

23 June 1916, The State vs. Harris COPELAND, in the Criminal Court at Livingston, Tenn, Murder

In this case the defendant, by his counsel, moved the court to quash the Indictment for the reason the indictment shows upon its face that the offense is charged to have been committed upon the 11th day of December 1916, which is an impossible date and for this reason, said indictment is void upon its face. The Court considering said motion is pleased to overrule and disallow the same for two reasons: 1st, It comes too late, after the jury was sworn; 2nd, The Supreme Court has held that in this class of cases, the date may be disregarded. This is so for the reason that there is no limitation to this offense and it is sufficient that the Indictment alleges that the offense was committed before the finding of the Indictment.

23 June 1916

Came the Atty. Gen'l for the State and the deft. in proper person, also came the same jury empaneled in this case, in charge of their sworn officer, M. H. WEEKS, who, after hearing all the proof offered in the case, both for the State and the deft. and the argument of counsel for both State and deft., and receiving the written charge of the Court on yesterday, returned into open court in a body and reported that they, upon their oaths, find the deft guilty of murder in the second degree. Said jury was thereupon discharged.

In this case comes the defendant in person, and by his counsel, moves the Court that the verdict of the jury in this case at the present term of this Court be set aside and the defendant be granted a new trial.....(8 lengthy reasons are given)

In this case, the deft, after the motion for a new trial had been overruled, offered his motion in arrest of judgment based upon the grounds incorporated in his motion for a new trial, and the further grounds that the Indictment itself is void upon its face for the reason that it alleges that the defendant committed the offense on the 11th day of December 1916, an impossible date.....

It is therefore the judgment of the Court, in accordance with the verdict and finding of the jury, that the deft be confined at hard labor in the Penitentiary of the State of Tennessee for an indeterminate period of not less than ten nor more than 20 years and that he be required to pay the costs of the case. To which action of the court in overruling his motion for a new trial and in arrest of judgment, and in sentencing him as above, deft excepts and excepted at the time and prays an appeal to the next Term of the Supreme Court to be held at Nashville, Tennessee, on the 1st Monday of December 1916 which to him is granted, and the deft is ordered in custody of the Sheriff until he enters his bond or recognizance in the penal sum of $5,000. (The bond was given by J. R. COPELAND, Burr VAUGHN, O. T. CARR, M. C. CARR and M. J. LEDBETTER)

Came the Atty Gen'l for the State and the defendant in proper person and the deft, being arraigned upon presentment for the plea, says that he is guilty and for his punishment puts himself upon the mercy of the court and the court, for satisfactory reasons, is pleased to order the deft to enter his recognizance to appear at the next term of this court under bond of $250 to receive the judgment of the court in the premises.

16 Oct 1916 - Selling of Pistol

Came the Atty Gen'l for the State and the deft in proper person, and the the deft being arraigned upon the presenment for plea, says he is guilty and for his punishment puts himself upon the mercy of the court, and the court for such his offense, is pleased to assess a fine of $50.00, all the costs and taxes of the case and reserves the question of jail sentence until the deft, by his good behavior, shows that it should not be imposed.

LIVINGSTON, Tenn. — The sun rises white and inviting as it crests the steep hills of Overton County on this cold February day, offering hope for a respite from winter's gray doldrums.

In room 50 at the Overton County Nursing Home, Grace Bilbrey, one week from celebrating her 106th birthday, has been awake since before first light. She has washed and dressed, choosing to wear a pair of gray slacks, a red blouse with ruffles at the neck, and a gray vest. On her ears are thin hoops of gold. On her feet are pink, fuzzy slippers.

Before settling into a cushioned chair to await the delivery of breakfast, Bilbrey makes her bed, tugging and tucking the light pink spread until its surface and sides meet her wrinkle-free expectations.

Celebrating a century.

She can tolerate the infirmities of old age, but the woman has never been comfortable around an unkempt bed.

"If you're not sleeping, it ought to be made," she says.

Strains of a Beethoven symphony begin playing on the public address system in the hallway, an aural cue that food is being served. Breakfast arrives at room 50 a few minutes later, a repast that includes bacon (four strips, crisp), two eggs (scrambled), oatmeal (to which she stirs in two sugar packets), a biscuit and apple juice. Cholesterol isn't in her vocabulary, nor is it her doctor's primary worry for his oldest patient.

"When they get to be as old as Miss Grace you treat them like fine antiques. You just admire and don't touch," observes Dr. Michael Cox, making his rounds.

There is one other item on Bilbrey's breakfast tray: a cup of canned peach slices.

"She has peaches for every meal," whispers Tony Palk, an administrator at the nursing home.

"What'd you say?" asks Bilbrey, turning toward him.

"I said, you love your peaches," Palk answers, his face a pale crimson at being overheard by the centenarian.

"Yes, I do. I eat 'em nearly every meal," the woman affirms.

So begins the 38,728th day in the life of Grace Copeland Bilbrey, daughter of Maywood and Loretta Copeland, wife of Earnest Bilbrey, mother of Evelyn and Ronald, grandmother to three, great-grandmother to four, aunt to many, great aunt to a passel, great-great aunt to several.

Today will be a busy day for the former shirt factory worker and school lunchroom cook. She will have her nails painted red, the color of blushing cheeks. The staff cosmetologist will comb and set her hair. Today, she will attend exercise class, eat vanilla ice cream with friends and take her daily walk down the nursing home's long corridors.

"I'm still here," she says, allowing that a daily ration of peaches could be the reason.

"Never know."

Six boys and two girls

She was born Feb. 14, 1899, the third of eight children.

"There were six boys and two girls. Me and Eunice were the girls. We came one after the other. I was the oldest," she says.

"The boys were Harold, Carl, John ... "

Her voice trails as her mind fails to scroll the list of her siblings. As with every occasion on this day when she has a senior moment, she laughs out loud, saying, "Well," with the inflection of a question.

Soon enough the names come to her.

"Joe, Paul and Lucian. Lucian will be 94 his next birthday."

She and her youngest brother, who also lives in Overton County, are the only ones alive.

"We grew up in Copeland Cove, out toward Monterey. We lived in the country for a long time. Daddy was in the timber business, had a sawmill," she says.

Before his death in 1957 at 86, Maywood Copeland also would serve as a deputy sheriff and own a country store.

By the time Bilbrey was born near the turn of the 20th century, her clan had been residing in Overton County for slightly more than 100 years. The earliest of her ancestors came to the area following the Revolutionary War after receiving a land grant.

"One of 'em was a man named Big Joe Copeland. They say he weighed 350 pounds. He must have found something to eat here. He surely did," she says, chuckling.

In homage to their rotund predecessor, a boy in every other generation of the Copeland clan is named Joe, Bilbrey notes.

"I had a brother named Joe."

The Copelands worked hard, played hard and argued hard. Her father, according to a book of remembrances assembled several years ago by a network of cousins, was a staunch Democrat and a devout reader of The Saturday Evening Post. When all of their kids had grown, the elder Copelands moved to a large home near the courthouse square in Livingston. At Sunday afternoon dinners, following morning church services, it was not uncommon for a spirited debate to break out among those gathered at the table.

"Sometimes you could hear them arguing from over on the square," offers Julianne Lynn, Bilbrey's 81-year-old niece, who arrived during breakfast.

Bilbrey nods affirmatively.

She could argue with the best of them, Lynn says of her aunt.

"Uncle Earnest, who was the kindest man, would always tell her when she got riled, 'Now, now, Gracie,' " the niece says.

Grace Bilbrey met her man at church.

"We went to Bethlehem Methodist. He caught my eye, I expect so," she says, smiling. Bilbrey has blue eyes and a face creased with wrinkles, but no more than the faces of other residents who are 20 years younger.

The Bilbreds married in 1922 and except for a few years when they moved to Akron, Ohio, where Earnest worked at a tire factory, the couple lived in Livingston.

"He was a good man. He worked at Specks," she said, referring to a hardware store in town.

Earnest Bilbrey, seen in early photographs as lean, taller by a foot than his wife, lived until he was 55, when a brain tumor killed him. The year was 1950. Grace Bilbrey has lived by herself since then, save for years when her widowed mother joined her.

She never remarried and is never without her wedding ring on her left hand.

"He was the one I chose," she says.

Secret of living long

With her birthday approaching, Bilbrey has been asked many times her secret for longevity.

First of all, she doesn't believe 106 is all that extraordinary.

"I don't think it's long," she says.

"I don't know if there's a secret, not really. Just doing right, knowing what I should do and what I shouldn't. I believe in treating everybody right."

And not dwelling on the negative.

"There were some sad times. My husband died of a brain tumor, and then my son, Ronald, did, too. You just go on with life. I went to church and enjoyed the singing. I loved to sing the hymns," she says.

She also took great joy in cooking. For many years, her apple pies were perennial blue ribbon winners at the Overton County Fair. Somewhere, she says, there is a shoebox filled with them.

And there was solace to be found in dirt, growing a large vegetable garden and lots of flowers.

Having Valentine's Day as her birthday always got her special treatment, lots of cards, and sweet treats, she recalls. Her birthday treats made winter bearable, even today.

Congratulatory cards already are arriving for her 106th. She anticipates receiving a few signed letters from congressmen, state politicians, maybe even Willard Scott, the part-time NBC Today weatherman, and President Bush.

But she didn't vote for the incumbent president, she quickly adds.

"I'm Democrat, my Daddy was too," Bilbrey says.

She'll add the greetings to the other cards received since she turned 100 in 1999. They are scattered about her small room. A few are on the walls, but most are in drawers, along with her framed Mother's Day plaques given by the nursing home to recognize the oldest active mom. With her daughter, Evelyn, now in her 80s, Bilbrey is a shoe-in to win every year.

End of a busy day

It is late in the day. The sunrise, which offered the promise of a bright day, faded fast. Now the weather is gray and damp outside, the sky growing darker by the minute.

In room 50, Grace Bilbrey waits on dinner to be delivered. The day has been a busy one. Her fingernails have been painted; her hair coiffed. She went to group exercise, ate ice cream without guilt and took an afternoon walk through the halls. Now she's hungry.

Soon enough an orchestra is heard coming from the hallway speakers.

Dinner, including peaches, is served.

He appeared in the census in 1850 in Carroll Co, AR. He appeared in the census in 1860 in Carroll Co, AR. He died about 1862 in Carroll Co, AR. During the Civil War, Gideon E. Gardenhire, lived with his big family on a farm 12 miles from Green Forrest, Carroll co., Arkansas. According to legends he was called "Cal".

One day "Cal" was standing at his gate when a group of bushwhackers came by. They wanted to know why he was not in the Army and perhaps they wanted him to join them. He told them he was too old and probably sassed them and told them to leave. Then one of the bushwhackers shot him. He died at once and his young wife, who was standing at the doorway, saw the shooting. The wife, Elizabeth, who had a young baby as well as many other children, was very distraught and the next day one of the kinfolks came and took her to the insane asylum in Little Rock, leaving the children alone, in the care of the older children. There were 12 children, some by Gideon's first wife who died a few years earlier and two of Elizabeth's children by a previous marriage. Calvin was the oldest who was away in the War at the time. That same night someone, probably the bushwhackers who wanted the farm, came back and set fire to the cabin. The children awoke and put out the fire carrying water from the spring with a bucket. There was snow on the ground and the weather was bitter cold. The logs were glowing, but the children continued dousing the fire until it was completely out. Lissie, one of the children and a twin to Crissie, who told this story, said that the day after the fire one of her eyes swelled and she became blind in that eye. The young baby was, Maggie Lee Dora and she cried and the twins Lissie and Crissie knew the baby had to nurse. They took her to the barn and tried to get her to nurse the cow, but of course that was impossible. The twins got milk for themselves and made a "sugar-teat" for Maggie so she wouldn't cry. They tried pouring a little milk on the cloth bag she was sucking on. Maggie swallowed and soon the twins, had her trained to drink milk from a cup.

One day the children were playing in the yard and a beautiful carriage came by and stopped. The occupants, a couple, said they wanted to take the baby to Ft. Smith, where they lived. They said they would get the baby a bottle and clothing. Reluctantly, the children let the couple, take the baby. Lissie said that the only thing she knew about the couple, was that they were connected some way with the Hanging Judge Beane. Before the month had passed, the children's mother came home. She had not been mentally ill at all, her grieving had been intense and as soon as the doctors realized this, they discharged her. Back home now the Mother, faced the loss of her baby, Maggie Dora Lee. She tried unsuccessfully to find her. The years passed and the children grew up and married. Still the mother grieved for her missing baby, as she grew old and lived among her children. Finally she advertised for her missing child in the "Comfort" magazine and far away in Texas the missing child, now a middle aged mother, saw the advertisement. The couple from Ft Smith, had kept Maggie's real name, Dora Lee Gardenhire. Dora Lee, had married J. F. Trail in Texas, shortly after she left Arkansas and had gone to Texas to work. "Maggie" Dora Lee, wanted to go at once to see her aged mother, but money was scarce. Her husband told her she would have to save the money, by selling butter and eggs. She began to save and had a large apron pocket full of coins. Her husband was plowing the garden and she was planting the seeds. For some unknown reason, she and her husband began quarrelling and in a rush of temper, Dora Lee, threw all the coins over the plowed ground. Dora's young son, J.F. Trail, Jr., said one of his first memories was crawling over the plowed ground in the garden, looking for the strewn coins. "Maggie" Dora Lee Trail, managed to make the trip to see her mother and what a wonderful reunion! Once again they were all a family, after all the hardships they had known. They were never separated again, they continued to visit and kept in touch by letters.

This story was told to Ogla Jones Trail Edwards, 1st wife of J.F. Trail, Jr. by Arla Melissa "Lissie" Gardenhire, the daughter of Gideon Gardenhire.

Born June 11, 1920. Oldest child of Joe H. Copeland Sr. and Lizzie Ford. Born at Antioch, about 4 miles south of Morrow, AR, and about a half mile north of present Antioch Church. Joe Sr. was a schoolteacher, and the next term was at Evansville. After that his next school was at Zinnamon, and Dad managed to buy a 120 acre farm with a house near Zinnamon. We always called this the "Bradshaw" place, with a complete set of buildings for 8 dollars! There were four more of my brothers and sisters born while we lived there. Ouida Evelyn in 1923, Mary Alice in 1925, Foster Ford in 1927 and Wanda Ruth in 1929. Sometime after we moved there my grandpa gave me a pet crow named "Jim". There never was a worse pest! Dad had some chicken coops outside with about 200 baby chicks in them and Jim would walk around a coop until he spied a crack then he would peck until he got the attention of a chicken and he would grab whatever showed through the crack and pull until something gave! We had chix with only one leg, one foot, one wing, no beak, or just whatever he could grab was missing. Jim didn't last very long after Dad found out what he had been doing! He would come into the house at any opportunity and grab anything he could carry and fly away with it. We found things in hollow trees years later and thought they had been put there by Jim.

Sometime during these early years after my sister Ouida was big enough to walk, she was never still unless she was asleep and during daylight hours she was everywhere and wasn't afraid of anything. We had an old tomcat that was nothing but a real gentle toy and my sister would pick his hind legs off the ground and "plow" him. She plowed him a lot of miles and he was usually worn out when she parked him. One day though, she and I had him in the house playing with him and when we got through with him one of us put him in the oven of our old cook stove and forgot him. Next morning Mama got up and built a fire in the stove and while the oven was getting hot she made up a pan of biscuits - opened up the oven door to put her biscuits in and there was the cat! He yowled to the top of his lungs and Mama screamed to the top of hers and he hit the floor in a hard gallop! He survived somehow though without any very serious damage and sometime later went visiting to my Grandma's house and my uncle saw him hiding in the weeds, thought he was a fox and killed him with a rock.

We lived there until the fall of 1924 and since money was scarce, Dad decided we should "go to the cotton patch" and try our luck at picking cotton. We loaded some clothing and camping gear into the wagon and went to Oklahoma. I don't remember a lot about that trip, but one of the things was when we crossed the Arkansas River I could see a man fishing from a houseboat there below the bridge. I never knew whether he caught anything or not. One of the next things was when we stayed in the wagon yard at McAlester, OK and someone stole my dog. We got malaria there in the river bottoms and spent most of what we made buying medicine but toughed it out until about Christmas. By this time we had worked our way to Lindsay, OK., and we stayed with dad's uncles Millard and Doc and his aunt Lizzie Tye. I was with Uncle Millard's family enough that I remember Earl, Floy, Martha and Emma Lee. I met their younger brother, James Joseph in later years when he came to the store where I worked hunting Caterpillar parts. One of the other parts salesmen waited on him and called me when he learned that his name was Copeland. He worked for Griffith Co, and they were building the Lemoore Air Station at Lemoore, CA. Uncle Doc was married to Betty Tye, sister of Aunt Lizzie's husband, had Lloyd and Virgie Marie. Lloyd owned the first automobile that I was ever in. Aunt Lizzie was married to a lawman (Bill Tye) in Lindsay, and they had a daughter named Corrine who was married to Chester Rhodes. Sometime about Christmas, Dad decided to send us back home, so he put my mother, me and my baby sister Ouida on the train at Norman, OK and we went back to Arkansas! My Grandpa Ford met us at the station in West Fork, AR with a buggy. Dad stayed awhile longer and went on to Hobart, OK and was there when the schoolhouse burned. This was at a Christmas program and the fire was caused by a candle on the Christmas tree. This was quite a tragedy, the schoolhouse had been overhauled and had heavy mesh screen over the windows and the doors all opened to the inside. All the people inside started trying to get out and the ones outside were trying to get in and no one was getting anywhere. A lot of people perished in that fire, and as a result, schoolhouses were built to better plans after that. There had been good crops that year, and there were new cars parked there for several days that no one could find owners for. Dad decided to give it up after that, and he traded our team and wagon for our first automobile, and came home driving a 1913 model T Ford! He got to within about three miles of home when he straddled a boulder in the road and had to get a neighbor with a team of mules to pull him off! We didn't use that car very much because gasoline was terribly expensive, 15 cents per gallon, license was 4 dollars per year and tires may have cost as much as $5 each!! We took it for a drive one Sunday and the radius rod came down and we ended up in the ditch! Dad took it and parked it in the grainery shed and gave up joy riding for a while. He and one of my uncles were working crossword puzzles one night when they happened to notice "it was light as day" outside, they looked out and the grainery was afire. The first thing to do was get the car out so they rolled it out and parked it then went back to fight the fire. They forgot all about the car, and next morning found it had rolled off the hill and parked in a branch below the house. A hen had chosen the front seat for her nest and was setting on a nest full of eggs and had stayed on her nest through the whole ordeal, and not a single egg was cracked!

Dad, my uncle and Grandpa Ford decided to put in a tomato crop in 1925 and had their crop pretty well established when Grandpa got bedfast and died - my first experience with death. During this time I got barely acquainted with some of my relatives, saw some of them for the only time in my life. There was Uncle Oscar, Uncle Buster (David), Aunt "Bunch" (Georgia), Aunt "Doll" (Rachel), Aunt "(Shang) Mae and several of their children including Oren and Reba Hill and H.M, Dorothy and Norvain Plunkett. I managed to know all of my first cousins on the Ford side except Mozelle Ford and Glenn McDaniel. Two of my uncles from Western Oklahoma came back here during this time in brand new Fords. One of them had a "self-starter" on it and cost $100 more than the other.

In 1926 Dad was teaching school at Strickler and he bought a 1924- Chevrolet. He wanted to take us on a visit to Grandpa's on the weekend, so we got ready and when he got in from school on Friday pm we climbed aboard and took off. After numerous flats and other troubles we got to Morrow, AR (about 25 miles) at 2:30 am, broke the driveshaft while crossing the creek - called Grandpa and he got one of his neighbors to go pick us up. Dad and Grandpa went after daylight and towed the car in and they worked on it until Dad had to leave and walk back home and start classes on Monday. He held school that week then walked back to Grandpa's on Friday night and spent another weekend working on it, loaded us all up and started home and got to Strickler and broke down again and had to get someone to take us home in the middle of the night. That car was only about 2 years old when we were having all that trouble. "They just don't make 'em like they used to".

A year or so later while Dad was teaching school, he usually rode a mule or horse. This particular morning though, it was colder than usual so he decided he would try to go in our T model. He got him a bunch of corn cobs and soaked them good with kerosene and poked them in around the manifold and set them afire, thinking that if he got the manifold hot that it would start easier. The fire didn't go out when it should have, as gasoline was seeping out of the carburetor and he had quite a blaze going. He was afraid to pour water on it for fear of spreading the fire, so what does Mama do except grab a bucket of water and douse it good and proper! Dad went to school in high style that day!

After that he taught school at Zinnamon, Strickler, and various places in Washington County for the next several years. I'm not sure what kind of a salary he got. It seems to me that most of the time he got 30 dollars per month. I know he would spend awhile at the University each summer in order to keep his teacher's certificate current. We lived near Zinnamon all this time where all the other seven living children were born. Went to school at Zinnamon until I finished the 8th grade in 1933. Some of the time during this period, I can remember that we could make some money to buy groceries by making railroad ties. There were three grades of them, and the best grade sold for 35 cents. Of course we always wanted to have all top grade ties, and I would load 12 of them on the wagon and drive them 10 miles to the nearest railroad where the tie yard was located. The tie inspector would usually cull at least one tie in a load and he would offer 5 cents for it, I would refuse to let him have it and would take to him on the next load and he would probably accept it and maybe cull another one. Once after I had collected for my load and paid for all the things I had bought I had a nickel left and decided to buy me a "Coke". I believe that was the best I had ever tasted but I couldn't enjoy it for thinking about all the little mouths at home that had never tasted anything like that! After my grandparents died and my uncle Mike decided to go to California, we moved from the place I described earlier to their old home place where the rest of my siblings were born. There was David Bruce in 1930, Leota born and died in 1934, Neva Joy in 1937 and Jack Roger in 1939. One of the greatest tragedies of my life was in July 1934. We had just buried my stillborn baby sister earlier in the week and our house burned to the ground on Sunday. Everything we had except the few clothes we were wearing was gone, and there wasn't a nickle on the farm! We had the best bunch on neighbors that it was possible to have, and they came to our rescue! One man even gave Dad 5 dollars! With no money on hand and no way to get any, we decided the only thing to do was try and rebuild so the neighbors came through again! We had plenty of timber on our place, so with help from the neighbors we cut timber and sawed it into lumber and built us a new house. Not much of a house, but it was home for some of us for more than 50 years. Late that fall, Dad got a small clothing and food voucher from the Welfare Office and about the same time got a job on WPA for 28 dollars per month. He worked on a road crew for awhile improving the road from West Fork to Devils Den State Park. He was then promoted to foreman and sent to Resettlement Administration at Lake Wedington where he worked in conservation and reforestation for a few years. We had been milking cows to provide some income, but there was a bad drouth that year and we didn't grow any feed so we had to sell our cows. We drove 7 of them to the local grocery store where we applied them to our bill at 3 dollars per head then sold the rest of our herd to the Government for about the same amount. During this time I had an offer from the foreman on the WPA crew. He was a grape farmer and needed some new posts to support his grapevines. It was getting close to Christmas, and I had no money to buy Christmas presents with so I agreed to take his offer. If I would get him a hundred posts, roadside, he would pay me a nickel apiece for them so long as they were six feet six inches long and not less than three and a half inches at the little end. It took about all the timber I could find on our place, but I finally after about three days got them all together. He paid me the five dollars and I caught a ride to town and bought Xmas presents for the whole family, then came down with the "flu" from riding the back of a truck to town and back in the cold weather.

There was no way I could get to town to go to high school so it looked like my education was finished. I had an exciting offer from one person who would allow me to board with his family, do chores and help milk 12 cows twice a day, help with the farm work during the summer, and I could go to school during school season and I would be paid 5 dollars per month year round. I thought it over and decided I couldn't afford to get me an education, so declined and stayed at home, worked on our farm, worked for neighbors for 25 cents per day, and sometime 10 cents per hour until my two older sisters were old enough to go to high school. Dad made arrangements for us to "batch" in town during the week and go home on weekends. I was 18 years old then, too old for the freshman class, and the seniors didn't want anything to do with me because I was a freshman, so there I was! I toughed it out for one term, and at the end of term I got a chance to enlist in the CCC, a poverty program initiated by Pres. Roosevelt to give young men a job and keep them off the street. Incidentally, it was also the counterpart of Hitler's "Youth Corps", in later years I have had to explain to several people about our "concentration camps", some folks thought we actually had them! It paid 30 dollars per month of which I could keep 8 and my family got 22 which was a Bonanza for them at that time! Dad was able to give up his WPA job and stay home. He also started growing broilers about the same time, they were just getting started in Northwest Arkansas. One thing a person learns from lean times like that is to do without. It is a pretty hard way to learn, but he soon finds that he doesn't need nearly so much as he thought he did.

When the first CCC camp was built in our area, it was staffed with boys from North Dakota. They were replaced by a company from Nebraska who were then replaced with two other groups from North Dakota. This was experimental on the part of Government. They finally decided that local people were better suited for local projects. Several groups were sent from Arkansas to places like Idaho, Montana, Washington, etc. The goal of our CCC group at Devil's Den was to build a State Park. We finally got a complete company of Arkansas boys and had locally experienced men. There were boys from all walks of life, and some of the stories we got were unbelievable! Most of the guys were away from home for the first time, some of them had never been anywhere. I think that the most amazing thing I heard was from one of the boys who said he had his first bed of his own when he joined the CCC. He had grown up sleeping on the foot of his parent's bed! We built new roads, a dam of native stone, camp grounds and hiking trails, and several log tourist cabins, after a few weeks there a group of us were sent to Hot Springs to build a new camp on Lake Hamilton. When that job was completed we were taken back to Devil's Den where we continued work on the park. We started a new Dam there in the Lee's Creek valley, but the War came along and it had to be abandoned. Much of the work we did is still visible today and is being used by many people. I stayed there for a year when an Army recruiter came out one day and asked me if I would like to enlist in the Army, and I said I would! This was in 1939,

Descendants of William COPELAND

I enlisted in the QM Corps for service at McChord Field, WA.

After taking the required basic training, they still hadn't finished the buildings at McChord Field so they couldn't move us for an indefinite time, and several of us volunteered for temporary duty at Fort Lewis just in order to have something to do. I worked at the Post Commissary until I came down with the measles and was sent to the hospital. While there McChord Field opened up and everyone moved on over there except the ones who were in the hospital and we were transferred out to other organizations. I was assigned to a QM battalion in Hawaii, then transferred to Co. A. 40th QM reg't in San Francisco all in one week. The 40th was moved to Fort Lewis and was absorbed by the 3rd QM Bn. there. All this transferring was being done in the Spring of 1940- I went to 3rd QM in June and we went on maneuvers to Chehalis and Tenino Washington in August. I was determined to go home on furlough that Xmas, so I saved my money and on the last day of November I walked into the bus station in Olympia and gave the agent 7 ten dollar bills for a ticket to Fayetteville, AR, and they gave me back a nickel ! When I got home, I found that Dad didn't have any kind of an operable vehicle, so I went to Abshier Bryan Motor Co., in Fayetteville and bought a 1937 Ford "60" for 325.00 & made monthly payments on it. I was making 26.00 monthly at the time. When my furlough was up I went back to Fort Lewis, I was doing real well there, when they sent me to Motor Transport School in Baltimore for 17 weeks, and before that time was up the draft started and all of us who were away in school were transferred out to make room for draftees and I was transferred to the 15th US Infantry, 3rd Inf. Division, stationed at Fort Lewis, Washington. After finishing the MTS School, I was sent back to Fort Lewis and got there just in time to go on maneuvers to Hunter Liggett Military Reservation near King City, California. While there, North American Aviation went on strike in Los Angeles and since the LA Police Force couldn't handle it, we were ordered to go and put them back to work. They were striking for a 35 cents per hour minimum and 75 cents maximum. We pulled into the gates at about work time, put on our gas masks and bayonets and started walking. We had most of them back working next day. We did such a good job handling that strike that our regimental commander was promoted to Brigadier General and was given a command in Alaska.

After the strike was settled we stayed around Los Angeles until July 1st. They were just beginning to organize the USO and we were involved in several projects. One of them was a film, "The Bugle Calls" with Wallace Beery. They used our regiment quite a bit while we were there, but we didn't get to finish it and they sent a camera crew to Fort Lewis later and we did some more filming on the Post Parade ground and we just barely got it finished before Pearl Harbor.

Soon after Pearl Harbor, we had no idea what was coming next so we dispersed in several towns from the Oregon line to the Canadian Border, and after they were sure we wouldn't be invaded we started training and preparing to go to the Pacific. After several weeks of intensive training they gave us a series of shots for yellow fever, etc. and sent us to a staging area at Fort Ord, California. Someone had sabotaged the yellow fever serum, so we all wound up in the hospital. They had replace us with another division for duty in the Pacific. After we recuperated we went to Camp Pickett, Virginia, staged for ETO and I went along with them through North Africa, Sicily and Italy. We fought the French for about a week when we first went to Africa, then when we got all our differences settled we went on to chase the Afrika Korps out of Africa. We wound up the African Campaign in the spring of 1943 then regrouped for the Sicilian Campaign with the Seventh Army.

The German Air Force bombed Bizerte almost every night. We left Bizerte for Sicily in the late afternoon, and were well on our way when we heard the Germans heading for their usual raid on Bizerte, and satisfied that this was the case we didn't pay a lot of attention to them. It wasn't very long, however until we heard them coming back, and we thought they had spotted us and were going to make a bomb run on us so we opened up on them with everything we had. When the dust cleared and we could find out what was going on, we got the shock of a lifetime! We had shot down 27 plane loads of paratroopers! Our own 82nd Airborne Division was on their way to jump ahead of us on the South Coast of Sicily! We almost wiped them out, it was a long time before they could get replacements and regroup for combat. This was one of the major setbacks that I know of. Another was one they called "the Second Pearl Harbor". There were a group of ships unloading at Bari, on the East Coast of Italy, there were two complete hospitals, an ammunition ship and several others all tied up and unloading when a lone German plane came over just on the dot at noon and he put a bomb down the funnel of an ammunition ship! It almost wiped out the town of Bari, and they probably just don't know yet how many people were killed. We landed at Licata, on the south coast of Sicily, and during the day while we were waiting our turn to unload we weathered eleven air raids by the German Air Force. They started on us as soon as they could see and worked on us all day! We sent several of their pilots to the happy hunting ground! We went through Sicily in less than two months and landed at Salerno in the fall of 1943 we pushed the Germans up the boot of Italy until we got stalemated at Cassino, so we pulled some of our people out and landed behind them at Anzio, where we were stalemated again--sat there on an eight by twelve mile beach with the Germans looking right down on top of us from January until May. While there I saw some of the first German buzz bombs, they brought a few of them over one winter evening and experimented with them on our ships in the Nettuno harbor. One of their radio guided bombs blew a Liberty ship half in two. I was on the "rotation" plan, and after 18 months overseas could be sent back home for reassignment with wayside stops at Jefferson Barracks, MO, and Fort Sam Houston, TX, I finished the War in the Automotive Section at The Infantry School, Ft. Benning, GA.

After discharge, I went to Dallas and worked a year for GMC. Bought a grain truck and went to wheat harvest in KS and Nebraska-came home to AR - married Helen Teague on 7-10-1948,-raised chickens for awhile, got hungry.Our son, Allen Bruce ,was born 5-7-1949. When he was about two years old we sold twenty thousand chickens on Friday then moved to California on Monday where I went to work on a farm and then when work slowed down that winter I went to Hanford,CA . My uncle Michael Ford and his family lived there. He was married to Florence Treece in Arkansas and moved to Ca when I was a small lad and had lived in the San Joaquin Valley for a long time. I became well acquainted with all his family, Dora May, Henry Haden and Robert Bryan. I went to work for a Caterpillar dealer and stayed there until 1960 when I got a chance to transfer back to Oklahoma where I continued this work for a total of 22 years.I first worked in Tulsa, then established and operated a parts and service store at Eufaula, OK for a while then another at Sallisaw where we were supplying parts and service to contractors engaged in the construction of the Robert S. Kerr navigation system on the Arkansas River, and the building of Interstate I-40 through Eastern Oklahoma and Western Arkansas. Our son Bruce Graduated from high school while we lived at Sallisaw.He enrolled at WestArk in Fort Smith for awhile, got married then enlisted in the Air Force and finally retired as a Master Sergeant, recruiter in Little Rock, Arkansas . I was transferred back to Tulsa about the same time,1968 . I stayed there until the spring of 1970 when I retired and moved back to Arkansas, I raised cattle for a few years, established a combination book and antique store called "Books'n'Bygones". We had a good business going there when the road to Devil's Den State Park slid off into the canyon and stopped our tourist trade, so we sold it out after a few years and moved to town. After the death on June 7,1995 of my wife Helen of 47 years ,I started volunteer work for the genealogy section at the library, where I still work. I was always interested in genealogy. I heard of "Big Joe" Copeland when I was real small, and when I got a chance I started hunting him!! I went with Ruth and Bruce to a family reunion in Sparta, Tennessee, and was able to get enough information together that I was really hooked! I've found everything except a chimpanzee so far, and I'm looking hard for him! I took out a little time a couple of years ago to go to CA and rounded up my childhood sweetheart ,Ethel Wright Rosebeary, and brought her home with me! We were married by Casey Copeland at Farmington,AR on June 8, 2001, just three days short of my eighty first birthday, and just three months shy of her seventy ninth!! We are happy as possible for eighty year old folks to be, and are looking forward to the next eighty years!
