Notes for Anne Templeton Brevard:

The EDMISTONS of Washington County, Arkansas, descend from David or from Moses James. Both men were born in North Carolina and lived for a time in Tennessee, where some of their children was born. Where they lived in Tennessee is suggested by the fact because John Ish came from Tennessee to Clark County, Arkansas, to marry Cynthia Edmiston. Evidently, he must have known here family in Tennessee. It is a well-established fact that the Ish family lived on the Holston river about eight miles from Tennessee. (Territorial Papers of the U.S., Vol. 4, pages 306, 307, 461).

Early Edmistons in Washington County, Arkansas, acknowledged the kinship of the two branches of the family but the exact degree is unknown at present. The Family but the exact degree is unknown at present. The Family Record which follows is numbered on the supposition that EDMISTON (given name unknown), was the father of David (2) and Moses James (3).

DAVID EDMISTON was born about 1760, in North Carolina. He died before 1830, in Clark County, Arkansas. He had married in North Carolina or Tennessee, Anne Brevard, (daughter of Zebulon and Ann (Templeton) Brevard), born 6 Jan 1766, in North Carolina, and died after Jan 1846, (when she sold land in Washington Co, Ark.), but before the 1850 census was taken. The time-weathered sandstone vault serves as her resting place, was the first grave located in Edmiston Cemetery and is at the center of the plot.

In 1818 David took his family and moved from Tennessee to Clark Co, Ark. After 1830 but before 1840 (family tradition says 1835), his widow and several of the children moved from Clark County to Washington County, doubtless because relatives were already living in Washington County.

David Edmiston and Anne Templeton Brevard had the following children:

- i. MARY³ EDMISTON was born about 1787. She married HUGH WALKER.

She died on October 17, 1880 in Webberville, Travis County, TX.

THE EDMISTON'S OF WASHINGTON COUNTY, ARKANSAS
BY ALLAN S. HUMPHREYS

MOSES JAMES EDMISTON, was born 2 March 1770, probably in North Carolina and died before 16 Aug. 1845, in Washington County, Ark. He married, probably in Tenn., on 21 November 1793, to Mary Ann Thompson, b. 16 June 1769, in N.C. She was still living in Washington Co., Ark., in 1850, aged 81 years.

Census and tombstone records show that the eldest grandson Moses J. EDMISTON was born 1822 in Arkansas, so it is probable that the family lived elsewhere in Arkansas for a few years before coming to Washington Co. M.J. Edmiston and P. L. Edmiston (this name does not show again) were listed in the Sheriff's Census for Washington Co. in 1829.

The family Bible of Moses J. Edmiston was printed by I. Ashmead & Co, Printers, in 1829, in Philadelphia. On the fly leaf he has written his name and the cost - six dollars. This Bible gives the birth record for his entire family and some of the death dates with his own death date is not recorded although many dates for the family of his son, James W. were recorded.

Deed Book "E", for Washington County (p. 254), shows that on 16 Aug, 1845, Mary Ann Edmiston, wife of Moses James Edmiston, deceased, and James Marrs and Isabel Alexander - Marrs, his wife, and John Thompson Edmiston and Rebecca Edmiston, his wife, and Moses Ewen Edmiston and Sarah Ann Edmiston, his wife, and Samuel Neely Edmiston, all of the heirs of Moses James Edmiston, deceased, of the first part, sold to James Watson Edmiston, of the second part, for $90, a tract of 69 and 38/100 acres of land. The witnesses were: James S. Crawford and James R, Asher.

Mary Ann (Thompson) Edmiston was listed as being 81 years of age 'When the census was taken in 1840. No mention of her is found later. She was then living with her son, Samuel N. and living in the home was Malinda Irwin / Irvin, aged 30, born in Tenn, Where place of birth is mentioned for the children, it is in Tennessee.

(7) ISABEL ALEXANDER EDMISTON~, (Moses James, 2 etc.), was born Dec. 1796 in North Carolina; married 19 August 1827 to James MARRS, born about 1785 in Kentucky.

On 1 March J.852, Jamu MARRS bought for $40, the dwelling of Moses E. Edmiston, from the administrator, Samuel. N. Edmiston.

Notes for James MARRS:

Died near Prairie Grove at the age of 91 chasing deer in a snow storm!

Story told about James by his grandson, Squire Buchanan MARRS.

One story my father told many times about his grandfather, James MARRS, was that he swore when he was a young man that he would never work. He was a hunter, killing deer, bear, wild turkey, or whatever he had to eat. I asked Dad what became of him and how long he lived. He said that his grandfather got caught in a bad snow storm when tracking down a deer he had shot, and took pneumonia and died at age 91, but he still never had a job.

"Among the first to come to Washington County, Arkansas, was the MARRS family; namely, Isaac MARRS. A settlement had been made in the Prairie Grove Valley in 1827 by Isaac MARRS, on the creek which bears his name. This was, doubtless, the first settlement in the Valley. The next year, his brother, James MARRS, settled what is now known (in 1867) as the Patton place. Both reared large families, and several of the prominent citizens of the county are numbered among their descendants. They came to Arkansas from Logan County, Kentucky, as early as 1817. Alexander MARRS, a member of another family, was also a pioneer of the county." from Goodspeed's History of Arkansas.

Note from the 4 Sisters MARRS book: "We think that what James MARRS meant was that he refused to punch a time clock for the other fellow, for our father held the same view. However, James

EARLY SETTLERS
History of Rhea Community - Washington County
by Dorothy M. Johnston, Ph.D

Part of this section of the History of Rhea consists of stories about the earliest settlers, Marris and Wagnon, but part cannot be verified by records today. This information was published in the LINCOLN LEADER in the spring and summer of 1969.

In 1817 Isaac and James Marris accompanied by Thomas Wagnon came on a hunting and exploring trip into Northwest Arkansas. They explored the area where Rhea, Prairie Grove, Cane Hill and Lincoln are located, making a map of the streams, springs and mountains. Isaac Marris was more concerned with the map than the others, as he said that he was going to settle some day near the spring located at what is now Rhea, and he located a spot on the creek (later called Marris Creek) where he would build a saw mill.

They had very little difficulty with the Indians with whom Isaac Marris and Thomas Wagnon were on friendly terms, but they had difficulty keeping James Marris from trying to kill some of the Indians who were watching closely.

They found the physical features of the area quite different from what it is now, as there were large areas of prairie which are now covered with denser underbrush. They found the elevations and valleys were covered with a luxuriant growth of grasses which offered excellent pasture for buffalo's and other herbivorous animals; panthers, bear, and wolves were plentiful.

Along Marris Creek (now Moore's Creek), an area chosen by Isaac Marris, he found some of the finest timber he had ever seen, some of the huge oaks being three to five feet in diameter. Also there were walnut trees three to four feet in diameter, hickory two to three feet in diameter and cedars two to three feet in diameter, tall and straight. The oaks were fifty to one hundred feet high, while the walnut and hickory were thirty to fifty feet in height, and the cedars ranged from forty to fifty feet.

When Isaac Marris and Thomas Wagnon returned to the area around Rhea in 1827 they brought with them their families, slaves, and everything they needed to establish their new homes in a land where no other white man had lived.

Isaac Marris brought with him his wife and four children, two girls and two boys; six adult slaves, four males and two females; and five children ranging from three to twelve who were born of the adult slave couples. He brought his household furniture and equipment for the saw mill; this was all carried in four wagons pulled by oxen and driven by the male slaves. A fifth wagon pulled by oxen carried the rest of his slaves and their clothes and two barrels of flour and corn meal. A sixth wagon pulled by two black mares was driven by Marris' wife and carried all his family, clothes and a large mirror type dresser which was entrusted to no one else, as it was a prized possession of Mrs. Marris. Isaac Marris rode a high stepping black stallion.

Thomas Wagnon brought his wife and their small son and daughter and everything they needed for their new home, including four adult slaves, one elderly man and woman, one couple their thirties and their two children.

Thomas Wagnon rode a big roan; his wife drove one wagon pulled by a pair of gray mares carrying their personal belongings and two small children. The adult slaves drove a team of oxen each, their wagon being loaded with a few pieces of furniture and supplies. Behind each of these two wagons two milk cows were tied. Thomas Wagnon also had a two year old bull which was tied behind one of his wagons.

This wagon train composed of these two families left Tennessee in the spring of 1827. They traveled along the Arkansas River to where Van Buren is now located and turned north to Natural Dam, where they camped for two days. At the camp the livestock were permitted to graze and the wagon wheels were checked and greased. A feast was prepared by the woman slaves; they

On the third day of May they broke camp and traveled north-ward camping near the location of Dutch Mills. The next day they camped at the head of Marris Creek and on the fifth of May arrived at their destination.

After the arrival of Isaac Marris and Thomas Wagnon, with their families, the first two weeks were very busy ones. Marris staed at once looking at a small dam on Marris Creek and setting up his saw mill powered by water. Some of the rocks from this dam were still in place in the middle of the 1900's. This mill was bmlt on Marris Creek (presently called Moore's Creek), southwest of Rhea; where for years an old swimming hole was called Roundhole. (This creek was called Marris Creek as late as 1884, according to Court House records in Fayetteville. The exact date the name was changed to Moore's Creek has not been determined.) Below it, about one hundred feet, was a hole of water named Elm Hole by Thomas Wagnon because of the large elm trees which grew along the banks.

As soon as they arrived in the area, Thomas Wagnon and his two male slaves plowed fifteen acres of ground with three oxen teams, and about ten acres for Isaac Marris. Once this was done they proceeded to plant an acre of garden for each family and the rest of the acreage they planted in corn.

The Indians helped plant the corn. The Indians dropped two fish in each hill, which they said produced better corn. When Wagnon had planted the garden and corn, Marris had the saw mill ready for operation. They started cutting logs to saw into lumber to build their homes.

On two occasions during the year of 1827 a battalion of soldiers was dispatched to remove Wagnon and Marris from the land where they had settled, but on both instances they were rebuffed by Indian warriors, led by their chief Bowl, who informed them that the settlers were their friends.

Allegedly Bowl was fascinated with Isaac Marris because he was the only white man who had ever treated him as an equal and could outride, outrun, outjump, shoot a bow and arrow, throw a tomahawk or hatchet and spear farther and with more accuracy than Bowl himself.

Thomas Wagnon was admired and liked by the Indians because of his willingness to learn their ways and he always made them welcome at his table, but he never became a hunter or a woodsman. Marris could glide through the woods swifter than most Indians and would never be seen or heard; only Chief Bowl could equal him.

The above information was reported as part of a record of the journey of the Marris and Wagnon families, a record reportedly in the possession of Joseph H. Gregory until his home burned early in the 1900's.

The writer has not found records to substantiate the above information. However, the fact the County Court House records show Moore's Creek was called Marris Creek until the late 1800's indicates that the Marris family were early residents along the creek in the Rhea area. It is recorded that the creek was officially known as Marris Creek when the Illinois Township was formed in July 1829, according to the County Court House records, which specified the eastern edge of the Illinois Township extended east to the top of the ridge west of Marris Creek. Marris Hill Township met the Illinois Townnship line on the top of the ridge west of Marris Creek, before the creek turns east. This line is more than a mile west of the Rhea settlement.

The minute details indicate a record of the Marris-Wagnon journey existed somewhere, and Thomas Wagnon's will probated in 1840 substantiates his ownership of slaves.

At the time the first land surveys were made in Washington county in 1832 there were four families with cleared fields and improvements who had previously built on land in what later became came Rhea Township southern part of the township in 1832. There were no developed areas in the northern sections of the township until after 1834.

His parents, Wesley and Catherine (Gentry) Greene, were natives of the "Old North State," the former a millwright by occupation, and a direct descendant of Gen. Nathaniel Greene, of Revolutionary fame. This branch of the Greene family have all the characteristics of their ancestors; and are a square-built, hardy, long-lived and courageous people, inheriting Scotch-Irish blood from their paternal ancestors.

Catherine (Gentry) Greene is a descendant of a prominent old North Carolina family, and she and her husband, Mr. Greene, died in Montgomery County, Tenn., when their son, Henderson, was a small lad of seven years. He became a bound boy in the family of Alfred Davidson, and with them removed to Greene County, Mo., in 1839, where he grew to manhood, and acquired sufficient knowledge in the common schools to enable him to engage in teaching as a profession. He followed this occupation in Greene and Christian Counties from 1849 until the breaking out of the War of the Rebellion. In 1860 he was elected to represent Christian County in the State Legislature, and served two terms, the latter term including a call session. In 1861 he organized Company F, Fourth Regiment Missouri Volunteers, Confederate States Army, of which company he became commander upon its entering the field, and after serving about two years was taken captive while doing recruiting service as quartermaster, and was kept a prisoner until near the close of the war. After the cessation of hostilities he went to Texas, where he remained about two years, and then came to Cane Hill, Ark., and engaged in farming and teaching school.

In 1884 he was elected to the Lower House of the State Legislature, and two years later was elected county and probate judge of Washington County, and has tillied the duties of that office with ability and to the entire satisfaction of his constituents.

While residing in Christian County, Mo., he was married to Miss Elmina Elizabeth Tillman, who was a daughter of Reuben Tillman, a native of Tennessee. She was an honored and worthy member of the Missionary Baptist Church, and her untimely death was mourned by her husband and five children. The latter's names are as follows: William F., a physician and druggist at Lowell, Ark.; James A., who is studying medicine with his brother, Thomas O., who is a teacher by profession; Minnie, who is yet single, and Mattie, wife of Andrew Hanna. Judge Greene was married in Washington County, Ark., January 9, 1874, to Miss M. J. McLothlin, a native of Arkansas, and two daughters have been born to this marriage: Emma Otelia and Caddie A. Judge Greene has been a member of the Missionary Baptist Church since 1854, and was a charter member and active worker in the Grange movement at Cane Hill, being master of that organization for several years.

GREENE, H.P. - Judge H.P. Greene, Prairie Grove's oldest and highly respected citizen, passed away Wednesday morning, April 26th, about 3:30 o'clock after a short illness of urethral trouble. He was taken sick on Tuesday of last week, but his illness was not regarded as serious at first. He gradually grew worse, however, and for several days his suffering was intense, but for several hours before the end came he rested better. Wednesday morning he quietly breathed his last, surrounded by his loved ones and friends, who were ministering at his bedside.

Judge Greene would have been 88 years of age, had he lived until the 4th day of next June, and he had long been a familiar figure on our streets and in the business and church circles of Prairie Grove. He was a man possessed of a remarkably strong vitality for his age and up to the time he was taken sick, was at his office daily, transacting such business as came to his hands for attention. Judge Greene has been a man of great usefulness, both in church and state. He was possessed of strong convictions for morality and righteousness. He had held many positions of trust, in which he served well and faithfully, and up to the time of his death was one of the Justices of the Peace of this township. Henderson Parmer Greene was born in White County, Tennessee June 4, 1828 of Scotch Irish ancestry and was a lineal descendant of Gen. Nathaniel Greene of Revolutionary fame. When a small boy his parents both died and he was adopted by Alfred and Martha Davidson who in 1839 moved to Missouri and located near Springfield. Here he grew to young manhood and was educated in the common schools of that period. He later engaged in teaching school and continued in this profession until the breaking out of the Civil War. In 1860 he was elected to the Missouri Legislature and served two terms during the turbulent period preceding to and during the beginning of the war. In 1861 he organized Co. F, 4th Reg. Mo. Volunteers, Confederate States army and became its commander upon entering service. After serving two years in the army he was taken prisoner and remained in prison until near the close of the war. When the war was over he moved to Texas and lived there for two years, then he came to this county and located on a farm on Cane Hill, where he farmed and taught school. In 1884 he was elected a member of the Arkansas Legislature and in 1888 he was elected Judge of Washington County. At the expiration of his term in office he moved to Prairie Grove, where he has since resided. He had been one of the Justices of the Peace here for a long term of years. Judge Greene had been twice married. In 1854 he married Miss Elmina Elizabeth Tillman. To this union six children were born, three of whom survive, James A. Greene of the State of Washington; Thomas O. Greene of Idaho and Mrs. Andrew Hannah of Prairie Grove. After the death of his first wife, he was again married on January 8, 1874 to Miss Marilda Jane McLothlin, who survives him with two children, Mrs. J.P. Edmiston and Miss Caddie Greene of Prairie Grove. Judge Greene has been a faithful and devoted member of the Missionary Baptist Church since 1881, and was very active in all of its work. He was clerk of the Fayetteville Baptist association for 32 years. For a long period of years he was superintendent of the Baptist Sunday School of the local church, and he will be sadly missed from the church councils. He was a member of the Prairie Grove Camp of Confederate Veterans and held the position of Chaplain of this organization. All of his children, except Prof. T.O. Greene of Idaho, who was unable to come, were with their father for several days before his death. The funeral services were held from the Baptist church this morning at 10 o'clock, conducted by his pastor, Rev. E.L. Conry, the funeral sermon being preached by Rev. Dr. M.P. Hunt of Fayetteville, and Rev. F.A. Bradshaw and Rev. F.R. Hamilton assisting in the service. A large concourse of friends were present to pay their last tribute to the memory of their friend, a number of friends being present from Fayetteville and Cane Hill. After the funeral service the remains were taken to the West graveyard in Greasy Valley for interment. [Prairie Grove Herald 4/27/1916]

Henderson Palmer Greene of Prairie Grove, Arkansas was born June 28, 1828 near Sparty, White County, Tennessee, the son of Wesley Greene and his wife Catherine Gentry. Subject taught school and was superintendent of schools in Christian County, Missouri. He was a member of the Legislature of Missouri in 1860, and in Washington County, Arkansas 1884 and 1885, Probate Judge of Washington County 1886 to 1896 and Justice of the Peace and notary public. He was a Democrat, a Missionary Baptist, Clerk and treasurer of Baptist Association and Church for thirty years. "Henderson Palmer Greene was son of Wesley Greene who was born in North Carolina, who was a descendant of General Nathaniel Greene, a General of the Revolution of Scotch Irish descent. Judge H.P. Green (from Wednesday's Daily) Judge H.P. Green, 88, died at his home in Prairie Grove this morning. [Fayetteville Democrat 4/27/1916] GREENE, Henderson Parmer - Judge H.P. Greene lost a cow last week by being poisoned from eating an oleander plant. The plant had been set out on the porch and the cow got out into the yard and spying the green foliage, took a few bites of it before being discovered, but this was sufficient to cause her death. [Prairie Grove Herald 3/23/1905]

(Cane Hill Items) Judge Greene, wife and Mrs. J.P. Edmiston attended the burial of Miss Addie Ish last Wednesday. The Judge is nearly 88 years old and the party drove from their home in Prairie Grove to Morrow, a distance of some fifteen miles and back the same day, passing through here shortly after noon. This is surely remarkable for one of his age. We would give an account of Miss Ish's life were we familiar with same but as we are not and as it has already been published we will not attempt. However, she was from a very notable family. [Prairie Grove Herald 12/23/1915]

Crawford Edmiston gave the land for and laid out a large family cemetery near Morrow. Each lot was cornered by a cedar tree. EDMISTON, T.A. - Tribute of Respect- At a regular meeting of White Rock Grange No. 205 held in the Grange room at Dutch Mills on Saturday the 27th of February 1875 the following preamble and resolutions were adopted. Whereas, it has pleased an all-wise God to remove from walks of men our much esteemed friend and worthy brother and Worthy Master of our Grange, T.A. Edmiston. Therefore be it Resolved that while we deeply mourn our irreparable loss in brother Edmiston's services in our Order we submit with Christian fortitude to this decree of our Divine Master in removing from our midst our much esteemed brother. Therefore we deem it due to his memory that proper recognition should be observed of his valuable services as a Patron and as a worthy citizen of this community. Resolved that in the death of Bro. But alas, there only remains to us a recollection of his virtues, his wise counsel and his zealous course a brother in our Order. Resolved that we mourn with his bereaved and heart-stricken family in their sad afflictions and tender them our warmest sympathy in this, their hour of distress. Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be presented the family of the departed brother in testimony of our friendship and brotherly regard and that a copy be sent to the Weekly Grange and Fayetteville Democrat for publication.
