Generation No. 2

2. JOSEPH "SOLOMON"² FOWLER (HIRAM¹)^{3,4} was born May 09, 1806 in Alabama⁵, and died January 11, 1888 in Chautauqua Springs, Kansas⁵. He married ELIZABETH R. LOW(E)RY^{5,6} Bet. 1828 - 1829 in Bedford County (?), Tennessee⁷, daughter of CAPT. LOWRY and ELIZABETH.

Notes for JOSEPH "SOLOMON" FOWLER:

- Speculation: Solomon was named after his Uncle Joseph Fowler who lived in Hardeman County near Bolivar and built a ferry on the river in the early 1820's. Hiram must have moved to McNairy for some reason. (Possibly remarriage?) Solomon and Hiram are quite a bit older (in their 20's) than Sevier (who was only 6 years old in 1830.
- Solomon Fowler and Elizabeth Lowery left Tennessee, went to Arkansas, moved to Texas, and then to Kansas. According to information received in May 1973, a narrative history of the Fowler's from Zora Gladys (Fowler) Schmahl of Oklahoma City, OK. Her father, Bennett Webster Fowler, son of Solomon & Elizabeth, as told to her by her father in the summer of 1940 when he was 90 years old.
- Gladys states that, "Grandfather (Hiram Fowler) was a blacksmith in Bolivar, Tennessee. The family came from South Carolina to Mississippi, and to Tennessee. Solomon moved to Arkansas about 1847 where Bennett Webster and John Madison Fowler were born.
- They were in Pope County, Arkansas 1850 census dated 10/21/1850, page 506 or 254, family 191.
- (The census states that Solomon was 44, Elizabeth was 40, Teresa L. was 15, Martha M. was 11, William C. was 9, Mary E. was 6, John M. was 3, Bennet W. was 3 and 1/2. It also says that Solomon was from South Carolina and that Elizabeth was from Tennessee. No township listed. On this same census Sevier C. Fowler is listed as being age 26, Catherine 19, John 2, and Mary 2/12. Sevier is listed as being from Alabama and Catherine is listed as being from Tennessee. They are in King's River Twp in Madison County. The other Fowler listed twice in Pope County is James P. Fowler age 25 from SC. Listed once with wife, Emeline age 22 from North Carolina, Second James P. is listed with Mary E. age 22 from North Carolina (no Twp listed).
- The family then moved to Dallas County, Texas in 1852. At that time, Birdsville and Dallas were fussing over which would be the county seat. Afterwards they moved to Tarrant County, about 20 miles NW of present day Ft. Worth. The family lived on the west fork of the Trinity River on Walnut Creek. This land, 320 Acres, was taken away from them by the courts of Texas on the grounds that it was an old Spanish claim. Bennett Webster believed that the court held against them because his father, Solomon was a UNION sympathizer in the Civil War. She wrote that from what her father told her, "The family lived in Texas until about 1865 and that they lived in Missouri from about 1865 until 1870".

- Allred: " I have heard both my father and Aunt Jane talk about the war in Texas. They said that they moved to Denison, Texas to Ft Smith, Arkansas and from there to McDonald County, Missouri. They lived in Missouri from 1870 to 1873 and then went to Prairie City, in what was the Cherokee Nation. It was located 20 miles NW of Vinita, 15 miles SW of Seneca, Missouri, and about 20 miles SE of Baxter Springs, Kansas. There Solomon farmed, blacksmithed, and raised cattle. He leased lots of land from the Indians. His last move was to near Sedan, Kansas where he died. Solomon willed the bulk of his estate (160 acres) to his son Marion Park Fowler".
- Jim Allred did some more homework on why Solomon gave this land to Marion Park Fowler. "I ran across a note that Solomon had land in Oklahoma that he had sold. It was customary under the 1862 Homestead Act for the father to apply for land for dependent males. The Homestead Act gives 160 acres of western land free to any US citizen. It could be quite possible that it was Marion Park Fowler's land. He was only 6 years old when the Act passed. This may be why John Madison and Bennett Webster had land in Oklahoma as well. John Madison was a witness to the writing of Solomon's will."
- The 1880 census of Chautauqua County, Bellville, Kansas (page 7, Ed66, Sup Dr#2-296, family 65-line 40) finds them living with daughter Miranda Jane Wood and her son Andrew S. Wood age 12, Andrew's father born in Georgia). Solomon was 74 and Elizabeth was 69 then. Marion Park Fowler, age 24, was living with them. Solomon indicates that he was born in South Carolina and his father was born in North Carolina and his mother was born in Virginia. Elizabeth Lowery Fowler indicates that she was born in Tennessee and that her father was born in Tennessee and her mother was born in South Carolina. Andrew S. Wood said that he was born in Georgia.
- Some of the family have recently replaced Solomon's headstone and changed the year of the date of his death. There is some investigation as to why this date was changed.

Notes for ELIZABETH R. LOW(E)RY:

- 1820 Bedford County Census:
- Rebecca Fowler # 8: 2m(16-18), 2m(16-26), 1m(26-45) 1m(over 45), 2f(16-26).
- Samuel Fowler #17: 2m(under 10), 1m(26-45), 1f(under 10),1f(10-16, 1f(25-45).
- William Fowler #14: 3m(under 10), 2m(10-16),3m(16-26), 1m(over 45).
- Joseph Lowry #13: 2m(under 10), 1m(16-18), 1m)26-45), 2f(under 10), 1f(16-26).
- Elizabeth's mother lived until she was 105 and her father was said to have been a Captain in the War of 1812. Elizabeth was living with her son, John Madison Fowler, when she passed away. She is not mentioned in her husband, Solomon's Last Will and Testament. All that he had went to their youngest son, Park. The other's received one dollar each.
- Elizabeth Lowery's sister, Matilda married Bennett Burleson of Denton, Texas. Bennett Webster is named for him. She came from east Tennessee.
- Elizabeth is buried on the old John Madison Fowler home place in Tyron, Oklahoma.

- In 1835 Cherokee Census compiled by Homer A. Walker (Chicago Library), there were several Lowery's listed. Solly and Arch are named in Hamilton County, Tennessee. In a book "Fowler's Arithmetic - Tennessee Cousins" by Worth S. Ray, Genealogical Publishing Co. 1960 (found in Pineville, MO Library - Ray County, Missouri settled by Cocke County - Tennessee families), mentions that on February 27, 1819, the Hiwassee Purchase was signed by Cherokee Chieftains, one of whom was George Lowery. It also mentions that from Monroe County Josiah Fowler, brother of Abijah Fowler moved to Texas before the Civil War. Also in Hardeman County, it mentions that during the 1820 Joseph Solomon Fowler built a cabin and ferry about 16 miles south of where Bolivar was afterwards located. It was named "Lowery's Ferry". (It was changed to Niles whenever the book was written in the 1800s in Monroe County, Tennessee.) It also mentions that Abijah Fowler, son of Dr. Thorn Fowler "school teacher" married Elizabeth Curtian, daughter of Richard Curtain and they lived in Cocke County (Older Son 1842 William).
- One of the biggest frustrations is that many ancestors eventually dropped their first names and went by their middle name...and every brother and sister named their children after their brother's and sister's.
- The "Fowler Arithmetic" also has a note from White County, Tennessee, that John Lowery would have been Govenor of Texas had he not been in poor health. Jim Lowry was a prominent newspaper man in Texas. Both were son's of Alexander Lowery who laid out the town of Sparta in western Tennessee. Also in Henry County, TN indicated that on Feb. 28, 1848, Arthur Lowery married Nancy A. Coleman and on the same page 781, William J. Fowler married C.H. Duncan on August 1, 1856. The first Govenor's of Tennessee was named John Sevier, who married a full-blooded Cherokee Indian named Elizabeth Lowry. Gladys indicated that in "Anserchin News", Vol. 1-9 marriage bonds on page 77 showed Shelby County, Tenn. Vol. 1 Isaac Lowery to Susan W. Lowery Dec. 16, 1841. John R. Lowry, Sec., Vol. 2 to Mary Wilcox, Feb. 1, 1824. Joseph Rhea, Sec. , A.B. Carr., J.P. Page 97, Bedford County, TN Tax List 1812 shows Greenbury Lowry #43, Captain's Company - John Roberts.
- Gladys also found where an Elizabeth Lowry transferred or sold 70 acres of land to Thomas Cummings in 1834 or 36. (This would have been about the time the Elizabeth was marrying Solomon. She inherited this land from her father, David Lowry who made the Will in 1814. James B. Lowry bought 126 acres in 1839 in the same area and a joining her land. The Lowry's were storekeepers and lawyers in east Tennessee.

Notes for SEVIER CLARK FOWLER:

- We believe that Sevier Fowler, was a brother to Solomon. The two became estranged over the Civil War and Solomon never heard from him again. Sevier Fowler went to Madison County, Arkansas where he raised a very large family. Certainly, there were other Fowler family member's in the surrounding counties in Arkansas. Many of William Calvin's family were in Newton County, Arkansas. Joseph Solomon Fowler was all over the map. Because of their age difference Sevier and Solomon may have had different mothers. ??? The online family tree maker shows that Sevier's father was Hiram. Oral history tells us that Solomon's father was Hiram Fowler from Bolivar, Tennessee. pg 279 census Madison County, Arkansas 1850.

Notes for WILLIAM CALVIN FOWLER:

- He built school's in Ryker, Arkansas and Sedan, Kansas named the "Fowler School". He was the first clerk in July 31, 1879 and his brother Bennett taught in 1881 through 1888 and was clerk in 1884 - 1886- 1887. W.C.'s children had to walk 8 miles to school before the Fowler school was built.
- W.C. went west to avoid the Civil War draft. He fought and hated Indians instead because they took his horse and left him afoot. Some say he was part Indian, but he didn't claim it.
- W.C. Also supplied the land for the school at Ryker. He was the first to be buried at the Cave Mountain

- "Boxley". His grave is located on the east side in the middle of the cemetery. After settling on the 1g hill in Boxley, Nancy said, "Like a butterfly fluttering from flower to flower, he landed on a pile of manure". She knew what she was talking about because after his death she had to raise her children on that hill. [fowler.ftw]
- One researcher says that William Calvin went west to avoid the civil war draft. (Allred says that he was a Civil war Veteran???) But he fought and hated Indians instead. They took his horse and left him on foot. He was suppose to be part Indian but he wouldn't claim it. "The only good Indian was a dead Indian in his book," according to Wilbur Robertson.
- William Calvin Fowler built a school in Ryker, AR. The land was donated to him. He was the first person to be buried in the Cave MT Cemetery at Boxley. His grave is on the east side in the middle of the cemetery. He built schools in Sedan, KS and Ryker, AR named "Fowler School" where he was the first clerk in July 31, 1879. Before he built the school his children were having to walk 8 miles to the nearest facility.

- Fowler, Solomon 1 male 20-30; 1 female up to 5; 1 female 15-20
- In the book "Old Folks Talking" by Jim Liles the Fowlers appear to have arrived in the Buffalo River region of the Arkansas Ozarks after the Civil War. William Calvin Fowler was listed on the 1870 census with a wife and three young children, living near the "Boston Post Office" in Newton County, Arkansas between the Buffalo and Kings Rivers, about 15 miles southwest of the Big Buffalo Valley. He had come to Arkansas from McDonald County, Missouri. [Vilines.ftw]

Notes for NANCY LUCINDA FIELD:

- After W.C died she and the children applied for enrollment with the Cherokee Nation through the Guion Miller Rolls through her grandfather "Joseph Field" but they were ultimately rejected. All of them were living in Eufaula, Western District - Indian Territory at the time of their application on July 26, 1910. Research tells me that they simply filed too late.

- According to a personal interview with Bill Fowler December 11, 1995, in the family Bible of Bill and Nina Lee Fowler the Field's family in east Tennessee were related to John Sevier, the first Governor of Tennessee. *John Sevier was the uncle of Nancy (Lankaster)Lancaster, the wife of Beeson Fields.

- When Dovie was born her mother was old and her mind was not good at the time that the baby came along. She didn't even name her new born daughter. When the baby was a few months old he family became concerned that the child hadn't been given a name and she informed them she had named the child Lonely Dove. She told them of a little dove that flew in and lit in the corner of the fireplace and how it cooed three times. She said that it was lonely and that was the way Dovie would be. Not understanding what she was saying everyone put it down to her failing health. When Dovie was 9 months old Susan called her daughter, Rhoda Ellen "Ella", (* age 12 at the time) and told her to take the baby to her Uncle Jim about two miles away. When Rhoda got there Jim wanted to know why she wasn't home with her mother. Jim became concerned and went to check on Susan. She wasn't in the house. When he went outside he saw some black birds circulating down by the spring. There he found Susan where she had hung herself. Then they knew why she said that Dovie would be lonely.

Cemetery. He married EMILY BELL WYATT^{145,146} January 30, 1899 in Newton County, Arkansas^{146,147}, daughter of WILLIAM WYATT and SOPHINA WARD.

Notes for EDWIN LEANDER FOWLER:

- Ed Fowler was a mule trader and singer. As a teacher he taught shaped notes and was by all accounts very musically talented as were many of the Fowlers. He chose to remain in the Arkansas hills after marrying Belle Wyatt. Ed worked in the Ozark woods as a timber boss and a skilled sharpener of crosscut saws ("misery-whips" on which loggers depended for felling the big trees, prior to the advent of chain saws near the mid-twentieth century.) His sons, Troy, Audie, Walter, Chester, and Efton were all "timber men", horse and mule loggers, stave-buckers, and tie hackers. It was hard, dangerous work.

Notes for EMILY BELL WYATT:

- Bell was a very neatly put together woman that sort of reminded me of Whistler's Mother because of the black lace that she wore on her head. There was a softness about her. Once when she'd been to visit Mintie after she'd broken a shoulder, Uncle Clint was going to take her back to Newton County and they were crossing the Arkansas River bridge at Muskogee, she told him that she remembered crossing that river in a covered wagon. They say she walked to church every Sunday and that she died quietly in her sleep.
- Bell's home is still intact and just about the way she left it. Her dresses still hang in the closet. It must have been very sad for her to have seen so many of her children die. No mother is prepared to bury her children.
- One research has that she died in Fulton County, Arkansas.

41. WILLIAM AUDIE⁵ FOWLER (EDWIN LEANDER⁴, WILLIAM CALVIN³, JOSEPH "SOLOMON"², HIRAM¹)^{345,346} was born October 21, 1902 in Newton County, Arkansas, and died June 07, 1969 in Evansville, Arkansas *Buired Cave Mt. - Boxley, Arkansas. He married NETTIE CRANFORD^{347,348} October 17, 1926 in Red Star, Newton County, Arkansas, daughter of CORNELIUS CRANFORD and SARAH BRYANT.

Notes for WILLIAM AUDIE FOWLER:

- Grandpa Audie worked in the coal mines in Pitcher, Oklahoma after he married Nettie Cranford. Then they moved back to Newton County for a while. Their next move was to California for about a year. They returned to Newton County, but did live in Kansas City during WWII where Nettie worked in a parachute factory and Audie worked on planes. After the war they bought a section of land at Evansville, Arkansas and he raised cattle and sold stove bolts that he cut off his land. He was a diabetic and eventually died from a heart attack as he was walking through his lower field after lunch one day. Nannie (Nettie) found him and ran to the neighbor's for help. He only had a fifth grade education, but had full command of the English language and math.

- Audie Fowler was an extremely intelligent man who enjoyed working with the land. He liked kitten's and shot most of his deer from the front porch of his house as they feed in his nearby garden. He liked to listen to the Grand Ole Opry on the radio at night and talk of politics and religion. He had a good sense of humor and loved to laugh. Nannie only acted aggravated when he'd talk about stealing kisses from her out behind the church when she was just a girl. She'd scold him and swear it wasn't true, but there was just enough sparkle in her eye, and a half smile that you'd have to wonder. I spent many a grand summer's with them on the farm. We had wonderful picnics in the orchard and often drove the cows on foot to Ashbee Hollow where the grazing was better. Paw Paw would ride the horse and Nannie and I would each get a long stick and off we'd go. The old dog Bulger would follow barking only occasionally. For me it was an adventure with nothing to fear, but the snakes. He and Nettie worked side-by-side and raised most of what they ate. They only bought their staples like sugar, coffee, tea, lard, and flour. Paw Paw drove an old rusted truck about 30 miles an hour. We'd often go to the cattle auction in Fayetteville and have a hot roast beef sandwich at the cafe while we were waiting for the check that his cattle would bring. When he died he had a new truck, completely paid for, parked out in front of the house.
- Nannie dried her laundry outside and canned everything out of her huge garden. Nothing will ever taste as good as her fried chicken and dinner rolls. She worked so hard all her life and always said she preferred the outside chores to being in the house. I loved the fresh smell of her ivory soaped skin and damp brow under her wide brimmed straw hat. Her lap held many a tearful child, and the leathery hands could provide all the safety that a little kid needed when the world would get a little scary. I don't know how many times she'd call me back from my hiding place to go back home to Ft. Smith with my family after two weeks of vacation on the farm. I'd have stayed with them forever. Life will never be that simple and sweet again.
- Nettie Cranford Fowler died from kidney disease a few years after Grandpa. They were both just in their early 60's when they passed away. Everyone who knew them said, "They were the salt of the earth, and best people. They were good neighbor's and they bothered no one. They were always ready to lend a helping hand when there was a need."

Notes for NETTIE CRANFORD:

- Uncle Clint said that Nettie and all the family worked very hard. He said that once Nettie and Oscar got into trouble with the school master and some visitors that had come to the school. They gave them a whipping. It was suppose to have Bud Cranford a pretty penny to get them out of trouble.

Children of WILLIAM FOWLER and NETTIE CRANFORD are:

- ii. CONARD FOWLER349,350, b. 1930350; d. September 06, 1930, Fayetteville City Hospital *Buried at Ryker, AR - Cave Mt. Cemetery351.

Notes for CONARD FOWLER:

- Conard died as a 6 month old infant of bronchial pneumonia. His death certificate has his name as "Conrad" and no middle name. Clint Fowler said that he could remember that the child cried a lot and that his mother would tell him to go and rock Conard's crib so she could get dinner ready. Nannie said that he just got a high fever. Although the weather was bad Grandpa Audie took the baby on to the Fayetteville City Hospital where he was pronounced dead upon arrival.
- On her death bed Nettie Cranford Fowler spoke of this child as if she could see him and as if she had gone back in time when she had this baby. He is buried in the Cave Mountain Cemetery with nothing to mark his grave but a field stone. I'm sure that she went to met this lost baby and her beloved Audie when she died. When Audie Fowler passed away she began to die herself. [Vilines.ftw]
- Conard died as a 7 or 8 month old infant child. On her death bed Nettie Cranford Fowler spoke of this child as if she could see him. Im' sure that she went to met this lost baby. He was born inbetween Clint and Dorothy.

Notes for TROY FOWLER:

- In 1943 Troy joined Walter Fowler in the timber business. Troy acquired an army truck to supplement his four mules in hauling timber up and down the Big Buffalo River.
- A major flood occurred in the valley in 1945. According to Dixie, "...As Troy watched the river slowly rising, he remembered the brand new truck and manure spreader sitting near the barn.....Troy, his son Bill, and three older men rushed down to the barn to try to get the vehicles moved to higher ground but it was too late.. They didn't even reach the barn before the water got too high. Then it cut them off from the house. They retreated to the highest part of the field, but he water continued to rise. Their only escape was to climb a big walnut tree. Dixie watched from the house and saw the light that they carried go up into the tree, so she knew where they were. They had to stay there until midnight (4 hours).

Notes for DIXIE CARROL:

- Dixie Fowler spent most of her years living along the Buffalo River at Boxley played her five-string banjo and could play "Cripple Creek" with the best of them. As a youngster of about 5 she learned to play chords with her father, and they played duets on the fiddle and banjo and singing.

Notes for CLINT FOWLER:

- Clint was a Marine and he was stationed in China just after WWII ended. He was employed at American Airlines as a structural mechanic until he retired. He was a member of the Professional Rodeo Cowboy Association (PRCA) as a bull rider in his younger years and enjoyed roping when he got older. He was a member of the Lincoln Baptist Church. He had been a deacon at the Riverview Baptist Church in Bixby, Oklahoma. He loved to dance and was quite good at it as well.

- The loss of his beloved wife, Josephine, was hard on him but the tragic death of his son Audie Dean Fowler in a car wreck surely almost crushed his spirit. He has survived his losses and always has a smile and interesting conversation whenever you see him. He has been a wealth of knowledge about the Fowler/Cranford family history and appeared to enjoy talking with the other members of the Fowler family that he met through the years.
- After the death of Josephine he also developed colon cancer which was removed without consequence.
- Seven years later he discovered the he had an undiagnosed melanoma behind an ear. By (February 1999) it had gone to his lungs and after an exploratory surgery he was told that there was nothing more that could be done. He told me that he wasn't afraid of death and that his life seemed to be full of misery and struggle anyway. He expected the next life might be a better one. He told me that he thought that death was hardest for those we leave behind. They seem to suffered the most. He was disappointed that the cancer had spread, but intended to live as long as he could without all the radiation and chemotherapy that he had seen destroy his wife and sister, Dorothy Dean Fowler Goldman. Those treatments wouldn't have saved him anyway. He had no kidney function and was on dialysis. He had high blood pressure and diabetes. His body was just worn out with this life. It's very difficult to face one's own mortality, but he did it with grace and dignity.
- Clint's father, Audie Fowler, was working in the coal mines in Pitcher, Oklahoma when he was born. The Irish doctor that delivered him asked Audie Fowler and Nettie "Cranford" Fowler what they were going to name their new first born child and they told him that they hadn't decided. Later they found out that the doctor wrote on the birth certificate that his name was "Patrick" Fowler. The birth certificate was never changed.
- He was buried on July 7, 1999 with Brother Vernon Fowler of Jasper, Arkansas officiating. Music was provided by his brother-in-law, Leo Feathers. Pallbearers included Leo Feathers, Eddie Fowler, Bobby Fowler, Dennis Neely, Jim Mullins, and Wayne Hughes. Honorary: Nate Holmes and John Garrett.
