Researcher's note: Information conflicts with other information as to Peter's birth year.

The roots of Peter Luginbuel are in Germany at which time the name was spelled Luginbyhl. Petri Luginbyhl sent his children to Switzerland for religious freedom. A number of these children married Swiss, thus know as German-Swiss nationality. From Switzerland three sons and two daughters came to the United States.

SUMMARY OF FINDINGS

(See research notes for complete details)

Birth and death records were not required to be kept at a county level in Ohio until 1867. Before that they are difficult to find unless you are able to find them in a church or perhaps family Bibles. Marriage records were kept at a county level from the time a county was formed.

Because a book has been published on Winesburg Birth Records, a lot of earlier birth records are available to the public that ordinarily would not be.

It appears that the Luginbuhl's and variant spellings that were located in the Holmes County, Ohio area may all be related; however I have not been able to place some of them with the client's family.

SUGGESTIONS FOR FURTHER RESEARCH

Death records, probate records and land records need to be searched in Holmes County.

If the Luginbuel family first settled in Stark County (Waynesburg), then Stark County records need to be checked for early land records, history etc.

REPORT TO:Loyd Luginbuel

SUBJECT:Luginbuhl Family

BACKGROUND: Further research on the Peter and Maria Stram Luginbuhl family

OBJECTIVES:

1.Retrieve deed / land records mentioned in last report, but not sent or transcribed.

REPOSITORIES: Holmes County Library, Millersburg, OH

LIMITATIONS: None at this time

ANALYSIS: The deeds that were copied this time were mostly quitclaim deeds from the children of Peter Luginbuhl ?selling? their property to their brother Frederick Luginbuhl. These heirs at law were scattered over the country, including Michigan, Texas and Nebraska as well as several different counties in Ohio. These are quitclaim deeds are recorded in Volume 42 pages 44 through 50.

In Volume 63, pages 142 through 145 there are more quitclaim deeds from what appears to be a second generation, perhaps some of the grandchildren of Peter Luginbuhl who had inherited a share of the property from their parent who was deceased at the time of Peter?s death.

Also included is a Power of Attorney from John Luginbuhl, Richardson County, Territory of Nebraska, to Peter Luginbuhl. This POA gives Peter Luginbuhl the authority to deal with the estate of Christian Welte late of Said Holmes County deceased. This is most likely the father-in-law of John Luginbuhl as his wife?s, Anna Elizabeth, maiden name was Welte.

In two deeds from December 1860 between Christian Strahm and Peter Luginbuhl, it appears that the two traded parcels of land that were next to each other. The lot that Christian Strahm sold to Peter Luginbuhl is part of the quitclaim deeds that are described above.

HISTORY OF RICHARDSON COUNTY, SPICER TOWNSHIP, NE

A tall, ornate headstone, etched with age, marks the final resting place of a Nebraska pioneer named John Luginbill. He was born more than 160 years ago near Bern, Switzerland, and died June 29, 1897 in Richardson County, Nebraska.

John is buried in Four-Miles Cemetery, a picturesque setting of gentle rolling hills and valleys punctuated by timberlands that follow streams snaking their way toward the Missouri River.

The Luginbill family migrated to American in 1829. They made the Atlantic crossing in a sailing ship and the trip through the Appalachian mountains was accomplished by wagon train.

The family settled in or near Waynesburg or Winesburg (Stark County), Ohio, about 1830. The 1850 Federal Census of Holmes County, Ohio records the young man's age as 24 and that he was married to Elizabeth Welti. She too, was born in Switzerland and had come to America when two year's old.

Census records of 1860 show the family has moved further west to Andrews County, Missouri. This move, probably about 1853, was the next to last stop for the John Luginbill family since records show they were in Nebraska in 1856.

Note: History of Richardson County, Nebraska list the following family member at the FIRST REGISTER OF SETTLER'S CLAIM

John Luginbill - October 3, 1854: Peter Luginbill - October 3, 1854: Christian Luginbill - October 3, 1854: (Peter and Christian brothers of John Luginbill).

Nebraska, still a Territory, was blessed with rich, black soil that produced abundant crops for a growing young nation. This was the end of the rainbow for John Luginbuel. Here he put down roots, and here he remained. By this time there were two new additions to the family: Elizabeth and Rosena. Older members for the family were William H., Peter, Mary C., Henrietta, and John - for a total of seven children.

It should be said that in 1854 a settler could homestead 160 acres, live on for six months, and then buy it from the U.S. Government for $1.25 an acre. At the time they called it preemption, and that is the road John traveled, but it wasn't an easy one.

Historians note that the frontier in those days was no place for weaklings. Only the fittest could endure the hardships, privations, and dangers of everyday living. Although friendly and helpful, the Indian was a factor.

One anecdote has it that John owned a pair of oxen he obviously had brought from Ohio. One winter day while logging. Indians made off with his one and only team. Promptly he picked up a gun and trailed them through the snow to Brownsville, Nebraska. After confronting the culprits in language they understood, they returned the oxen and John returned home.

Without question, the winter of 1854-55 was to be a hard one for the Luginbills. They lived in a log cabin in that provided few comforts, especially with seven children. The, too, the weather was harsh and provisions were scarce. The daughters learned to spin wool and weave cloth to keep the family warm. John and his sons tended the livestock in makeshift shelters and melted snow to drinking water. By springs they were ready to go into the fields.

A set back of sorts occurred a few years later when President Buchanan signed legislation requiring payment of the $1.25 per acre that John had signed up to buy. He had no choice but to take the inheritance money and savings of the entire family to pay for the title to his 160 acres.

From that point on, however, the John Luginbill family fortunes began to look better. Besides the land John had found through homesteading rights, deals were struck with Indian Chiefs for additional acreage and, little by little, John Luginbills holding became substantial.

Meantime, the country was going through an era of turmoil and agony. They abolished slavery in 1865; The Civil War ended in April 1865 and President Lincoln was shot the same month (April 1865). Two years later (March 1867) Nebraska became the 37th State in the nation.

A deed dated January 3rd, 1868 at 11. O'clock am from A John Peavy & wife to John Luginbills for $1000.00 description of land in Richardson County containing 160 acres. Another deed dated the same for 160 acres.

Unfortunately, they destroyed or lost censuses for 1870 as were the files for 1890.

However, we do know William H. and Peter Luginbills were married between 1877 and 1880. William married Anna Barbara Grossenbacher and Peter was wed to Elizabeth Stalder. Each of the new families now farms their own land, possibly helped along by John.

Also, married in 1873 was Mary C. Luginbills. She wed John E. Wissler. Still at home, according to the 1880 census, are Lizzie, 18, and Rosa, 15. Another son of John Senior, born in 1859, also named John, died at an early age (no record).

A deed dated May 9, 1874 at 12 O clock from John Luginbills & his wife Anna Elizabeth for the sum of $800.00 sold to Samuel German description of land in Richardson County containing eighty acres.

At the turn of the century, John's wife, Elizabeth was a widow. The census of the year said she raised seven children, six of them still living in 1900. She had come to the U.S. in 1834 and lived here for 66 years.

In the years preceding his death, John had considerable influence on events of Richardson County. It should be noted the he was elected as a Judges to help select the County Seat for Richardson County. He was the judge from Speiser Precinct when they named Fall City.

Arkansas Confederate Pension listed Peter as serving in the Cavalry in the state of Texas. His wife applied for the benefit in 1905 after his death.

Pete moved to the Arkansas in 1866 Evansville area and build a home on Evansville Creek. Census records list a Luginbull, E, 43, Male, Ohio; Luginbull, M.E., 32, Female, Missouri and Luginbull, E, Female, Nebraska. From there he moved to the Cane Hill Community, Washington County, Arkansas. He helped build the McClelland home. This home has been restored and now in excellent condition and now a historical site. From Cane Hill he moved to the Salem Springs Community near Dutch Mills, AR and built a home and a log barn. Peter was also a mineral prospector and a shaft was sunk on the mountainside near the old Salem Spring school in hopes of finding ore. This can still be seen in the underground, but ore was not found. The name Luginbyhl was retained and was on his marker in the White Rock Cemetery near Dutch Mills, AR.

Peter Luginbyhl was listed in "Arkansas Confederate Pension Index". It was noted that Confederate Soliders need not have served in Arkansas, but another state.

The spelling of the name was changed in 1900 to Luginbuel. Peter Luginbuhl Name was never changed.

THE PETER LUGINBUEL / LUGINBYHL WASHINGTON COUNTY HISTORY by Anna Luginbuel / Luginbyhl Venable

Peter Luginbuel (spelled Luginbyhl earlier) and wife came from Switzerland after 1850. They stopped in the Morrow, Arkansas area for a shore while, then came to Salem Springs, and lived there until their death. Mr. Luginbuel was a mineral prospector and a shaft was sunk on the mountainside near the old Salem Spring school in hopes of finding ore. This can still be seen in the undergrowth but ore was not found here.

Peter's son, Bert, married Daisy Kimbrough and lived on the original homestead all their lives and Bert's daughter, Mrs. Anna Venable, and husband now own this homestead.

Peter's son, Charlie, married Mary Watson and moved to Dutch Mills. Here they reared their family and operated a general store until they retired to Lincoln.

Daughter Mary Elizabeth (Mollie) married Samuel Choate and daughter Anna T. Married Charlie R Reed from the Fly Creek community. Both the Choates and Reeds reared their families near Salem. Joseph P. Reed married Myrtle Hargrove and lived on a farm here for some time, then bought a stock farm near Summers, Arkansas, and lived there until his death in 1966. Elbert, better known as Ebb Reed, Still lives near Salem.

A Mr. Malloy came quite early and was killed by bushwhacker during the Civil War and was buried on the Joe Reed farm now owned by Mr. Ryan. He was buried by two women, Mrs. Armstrong and Mrs. Watson. A stone marks his grave.

John Armstrong and wife, Catharine, two sons, Hugh and Peyton, were here by 1864. Peyton lived near White Rock.

His son, Hugh, married Sarah Ellen Webb. He became a Methodist minister but before he could belong to the Quarterly Conference he must have a recommendation. Having been raised near Rev. Webber, a German who spoke with a strong accent, he asked him to recommend him. Rev. Webber told the conference, ' Well, I had not heard him 'breach' but I had heard him 'bray' and he brays a pretty good Bayer.' Rev. Hugh was accepted and became a wellknown gospel preacher through out northwest Arkansas. (This story was told to me by Rev. Armstrong's daughter, Mrs. Claudia Reed.) Peyton's daughter, Sadie married Frank Malloy. Annie married Robert Roy. Martha married Logan Kirk, and Mary married G.T. Grooms and then a Moore.

Thomas Moore and wife Sarah, sons Dave, Gum, and Han, came. When the boys grew up, they moved to Cincinnati and put in a large grist mill just east of there. It was known as Moor's Mill thru-out the country for many Years.

Mrs. Watson could not remember who might have been the earliest school teachers, but she does remember a Professor Pitman, Mell Goddard, Mr. Armstrong, Charlie Rhodes, and later Miss Laura Houston. Miss Myrtle Hargrove taught about 1911 and 1912, then married Joe Reed. Miss Ruth Allison taught in 1918, and Mrs. Hope Leach Rauch taught several terms here, and taught the last school, then it was moved to the Bert Luginbuel Farm to a more central location. This school consolidated with the Lincoln school system about 1924.

Two Watson brothers came but probably not until about 1860. Samuel married Lucinda F. Kipp and had six children: Mary, who married Charlie Luginbuel , Callie married John Bost, Ana Liza married John Sharp, Clemmie married Henry Jobe, Thomas married Grace Moss, and Maggie married Walter Hunter. The Hunters had two children: Everett, and Velma McGuire who taught many years at Bacone College and now resides in Stigler, Oklahoma. Mary and Charlie had six children, Lawrence, who married Luna Hilton, was in the barber business in Lincoln most of his life, Reed married Lola Norwood and he and his brother Jeff are in the funeral home business in Vinita, Oklahoma. Albert, who lived near Lincoln, was in the broiler business; he married Ethel Martin. Loyd, who married Edna Rankin, owns a funeral home in Lincoln and Prairie Grove, where his son Loyd Wayne is associated with him. Lolita made her home until her death in California.

Martin Watson married Edna Jane Carter in 1886. Their children were Albert, who married Lue Fields; Allen married Ann Williams and Henry married Sallie Rich. Martin Watson gave land for the Methodist Church and this building was also used for the school at Salem. His wife, and daughter Eldora, and probably many others, were baptized in the Salem Springs branch near the school.

Benjamin Fields (see photo on opposite page) came with his family later than most pioneers and bought the hotel from Russell Bates. Here he reared 17 children. His wife, Nancy Phillips, and he both had previous marriages with four children, and they had 13 of their own. Their daughter, Ruth, married Ben Jones, Fannie married Billie Choate, Laura married Willis Choate, Lue married Albert Watson, Ellen married Dick Wright, Ollie married a Hicks, Emma married a Steven. All the girls were married at home in the Bates hotel. Some were married by a minister while at times one was married by Justice of Peace if no minister was available. Logan Kirk and James Payne were both Justices of Peace. Benjamin Fields was a blacksmith by trade and his son George worked with him as he grew to manhood. There were three other boys: Robert, Curl and Thomas. Benjamin Fields was the last postmaster in Salem when the office was discontinued in 1905 and a mail route established.

Robert and Frances Stout lived near White Rock and had nine children. Walter married Dora Little, Taylor married Mattie Little, Osborn married Annie Douthit, Maud married Buster Rogers, Emma married a Fiddler, Della married John Douthit, Dee married Billy Hickman, Ruth married Charlie Webber, Barbra married Jim Moore. At one time during the business boom there were as many as 14 places of business, a saw mill, livery stable and barber shop. Many farmers grew orchards where today only grain, cattle, and broilers are found. A Business Directory of Washington County, 1900, listed the following: J.W. and S.C. Choate (now spelled with an 'E'), masons; Ben P. Fields, blacksmith; G.W. Jones, general store and postmaster; and J.P. Payne, Justice of Peace. The population was 75 with mail daily. The advent of the Kansas City Southern railway into Westville, Oklahoma, and the Frisco into Summers, Arkansas, drew the trade of many early settlers from the Salem area and like other small early villages, they are no more. But much early history of Washington County was made in just this way by hearty pioneers. Their many descendants, some still living in the area and others in faraway places, can be justly proud

Notes for Elizabeth Jane Reid:
Andrew County, Missouri - 1850 Federal Census lists the following:

William Reed - 43 a farmer $800.00 born in KY
Martha - 17 born KY
Frances - 16
Elizabeth - 14
Matilda - 12
Amanda - 8
William - 6

The age of Frances Elizabeth may be closer to the family records in Arkansas. However, we have her place of birth as Kentucky.

07/15/2005 Information received from Linda Guynup Dewey, William "Pony" Reed and Dorothy "dolly" Donaldson was the correct father and mother for Elizabeth. Linda also noted that her gg grandmother, Martha Jane Ried married John Strahm (b Switzerland 1822/23). She also noted that the Strahms was living near William Reid in 1860 census in Denton County, Texas. She found John Strahm was in an Arkansas unit in the Civil War -- and may have died near that time. Her gg grandmother Martha went back to Missouri in 1862, remarried in 1863, remained in Missouri until early 1880s, then moved west, following her daughter, Matilda Strahm Bryant to Washington State, where a large group of Strahms had settled.

History of Bolivar, Texas

COMPILED BY FRANCES SIMPSON ABELSON AND
RHEBA RIPPEY MARSHALL

The town of Bolivar was laid out by Dr. Hiram Daily in 1852 and Bolivar Cemetery was established east of Main Street on high ground across a small branch, being the same site the cemetery has now occupied for some 145 years.

Bolivar Cemetery is located on FM 455 northwest of Denton, Texas, via 1-35 north 12 miles to Sanger then via FM 455 west 3.7 miles. It is about 756 feet west of the northeast corner of J. B. Reed Survey A-1086 then 862 feet south; 384 feet west; 862 feet north; 384 feet east to beginning containing some 7.61 acres of land. There are many unmarked graves; however, the earliest interment identified by a monument is of Zolly Cofer Waide (January 13, 1863--May 14, 1863). Veterans of the Mexican American War, Civil War, World War I, World War II, Korean Conflict, and Vietnam War are interred here. Other than the Government-issued markers, moments, range from the very elaborate to simple home-made tombstones and marked rocks.

Dr. Hiram Daily, who was not only a physician but also a Methodist minister and store proprietor, first established Clear Creek Settlement in a bend just south of Bolivar; but it was wiped out by black smallpox. The Cash Settlement where the stagecoach driver rested and changed horses was only a few miles north; nevertheless Dr. Daily obtained land in the southeast corner of the John Yoakum Survey that was accessible to Clear Creek about one-half mile north of his original settlement. He called the town "New Prospect".

There was some dispute over the name of the town; and Ben Brown of Bolivar, Tennessee, who settled north of town near the big Chisum ranch, suggested it be named "Bolivar." An election was held to settle the matter and the Tennessee exchanged mugs of rum for votes - "Bolivar" won!

Good water, plentiful timber, a scenic plateau, being closer to the County Seat, and having a local minister-preacher-store owner were all reasons for Bolivar prosper. The original town lots were on the west side of Main Street; and Dr. Hughes purchased land on the east side of Main Street, which was called the Hughes Addition to Bolivar. Today, Main Street is Highway FM 2450 while First is Highway FM 455. When Jesse Sartin moved his stagecoach stop there into a new hotel with a flowing well in the lobby and his saloon nearby, the Cash settlement became part of the Bolivar outlying community.

Ed. F. Bates lists Jake Myers and Chris Luginbyhl among Bolivar pioneers "who never failed to answer the roll call in time of danger." Jacob "Jake" and Mary Lingle Myers, daughters Juretta and Delilah, along with Jake's cousin, Amos Myers, arrived in the new town in 1852-1853 from Indiana. They settled west of Bolivar. Jake died while in the Confederate Army; and his widow married cousin Amos.

Christian "Chris" and Peter "Pete" Luginbyhl were born in Switzerland but grew up in Ohio where their father farmed, owned a saw mill, and had a lumber business. Pete was the more adventurous. He and their brother John were married in Missouri then they and Chris settled near Omaha, Nebraska. All was well until Pete heard about Texas. John had seven children by then so stayed in Nebraska; but Pete, his wife and daughter, and Chris arrived in Bolivar in early 1859. They not only bought farms but helped operate the saw mill. Being master carpenters, they also helped build homes, barns, and businesses in the new town. After Christian Luginbyhl married Juretta Myers on November 20, 1869, the Myers family moved closer to Denton and Pete took his family off to the Arkansas Ozarks. Chris and Juretta settled on a farm just south of Bolivar on what is now Luginbyhl Road. Their nine children were born there as were the children of their son Philo Alexander and Vira Viola (Simpson) Luginbyhl. Some still live in the area; and a number of Luginbyhls are buried in Bolivar Cemetery.

Census of 1860 listed Christian (Lookenbill) as living in the same household as his brother, Peter Lookenbill, his age as 27 and estimated birth as 1832.

She was born on July 11, 1853 in Fulton County, OH. She died on September 02, 1929 in Farm Home, Humboldt, NE.

Notes for Peter Luginbill:

History of Richardson County, Spicer Township, NE

Peter Luginbill became a pioneer legended in Richardson County, Nebraska, because he was a happy, generous, hard-working person whom everyone loved. He was the second son of JOhn, born in Ohio (1851) and died in 1926. He is buried at the Four Mile Cemetery surrounded by his children and family friends.

"Grandpa Pete," as he was affectionately called by his many grandchildren, married Elizabeth (Lizzie) Stalder in Falls City, Nebraska, in April 1880. By this time he had a farm of his own and went about the task of making living conditions better for his new bride. It wasn't too long, however, before a family was started, for Fred Luginbill was born in 1881, followed by Rosa in 1882. After a two-year lapse son Peter was born in 1884. Mamie came along in 1887, followed by Jessie in 1888. The remaining two children, making a total of seven, were William (1890) and Lucy (1892).

So Peter Luginbill had to work hard, long hours in the fields or his seven children. But he still found time to enjoy a game of horseshoes, a lively card game or a visit with a relative. The latter he liked best of all and the years slid by all to quickly.

Befor his father died in 1897, Peter was a well-situated and prosperous farmer. In 1891, he built a new house, barn, smokehouse, henhouse and other farm buildings. it is not known which was built first -- the family home o rthe barn. But it is certain that the barn on Peter's farm about a mile north of Four Mile Creek was completed in 1891 and still stands in 1985. It is unique. There are no nails in the structure since wooden pins hold it together. A man made earthen ridge faces the north. Huge stone blocks join the earthen ridge and make up the east and west sides of the building. The south side of the barn is two storeis with a place for livestock below and hayloft above that covers the entire second story.

From the basic earth and stone foundation the barn if completed with wooden beams notched together and pinned. The siding overlaps as only an expert carpenter could manage. A keen imagination must have been at work in the planning of the structure for livestock are protected on the north, east and west by earth and stone. The hayloft affords good insulation above the stall entrances all face south. (It is interesting to note that an identical replica stands on the farm first homesteaded by Peter's father, John. Older, but in good shape this must have been the one Peter copied on his land.)

At the turn of the century (1900) Peter's children were reaching adulthood. The elder son, Fred, was 19 and his sister, Rosa, was 18. And by 1910 only Mamie, William and Lucy remained at home. Peter Luginbill, Jr. and his sister, Jessie, had married and settled elsewhere.

Rosa had taken a job with the telephone company in Kansas. It was there she met her future husband, married and settle down. The year was the early 1900s. The horse and buggy era was giving way to the automobile, an occasional tractor could be seen, the telephone was becoming a popular fixture in homes, and the kerosene lamp was giving way to electricity.

As the years, went by it was evident Peter was slowing down. Also, it could be seen that yet another generation was being groomed to work the land. William Luginbill, born in 1890, was destined to be the one to carry on where first John and then Peter left off. At Peter's death in 1926, William took the helm and managed the two homestead (John's and Peter's) until he died in 1974.

Notes for Opal Mae Muirray:

Opal Mae (Reed) Barenz peacefully transitioned from this life to heaven on August 10, 2019, at Willard Walker Hospice Home in Fayetteville, Arkansas. Opal was born to Earl L. Murray and Lillian B. (Guillams) Murray on August 8, 1931 in Enid, Oklahoma. She grew up and received her education near Stillwell, Oklahoma, but lived most of her life in Fayetteville and near Lincoln.

Opal is survived by two sons: Dr. Larry Reed and wife, Diana, of Bartlesville, Oklahoma and Gary Reed and wife, Bridgett, of Fayetteville; three grandchildren: Rhonda (Tim) Hudson of Bartlesville OK, Jennifer (Sean) Eisensmith of Stillwater OK, and Nathaniel (Lacy) Reed of Oologah OK; and six great-grandchildren: Madeline and Emma Hudson, Jaxton and Jordan Secrest, and Gracie and Jacob Reed. She is also survived by one niece: Sharon (John) Wright of Fort Smith AR; one nephew: Lee Murray of Camden AR; two grandnephews: Daniel and Brian Hignite; stepson Danny Barenz of Omaha NE; and friend and former daughter-in-law, Anita Reed

She was preceded in death by her parents; her husband of 22 years, Roland Barenz; one sister, Earlene Hignite; one brother, Jim Murray; and one nephew, Danny Hignite.

Opal loved fishing, growing flowers, gardening, and her dogs, but she especially loved her church and spending time with her family, telling stories and making memories. Perhaps Opal's greatest traits were her generosity and willingness to work hard at anything she wanted to accomplish. Her life's mission was helping others; she received great joy by giving, whether that meant providing food for a church dinner, cooking breakfast for the Lincoln High football team, allowing someone to sleep on her couch, providing a ride or, simply, buying gifts for others. She will be dearly missed by all those who knew her.

The family thanks all those at Washington Regional Medical Center and Willard Walker Hospice Home who attended to Opal during her stays; their compassion and dedicated service were a blessing to both Opal and her family. In lieu of flowers the family asks that you donate to Willard Walker Hospice Home, Fayetteville.

The family will receive friends from 10:00 AM until 11:00 AM followed by a special family remembrance, Thursday, August 15th, 2019, at Luginbuel Funeral Home in Prairie Grove, Arkansas. Burial will be in the Chalk Bluff Cemetery in Stillwell, Oklahoma. No graveside service will be held at the cemetery.

Notes for Mary Ellen Venable:

Chamber Announces Pioneer Farm Family

When Peter Luginbyhl came to Northwest Arkansas from Germany in 1866, he had no way of knowing that he would become so established here that his children, granddaughter and great granddaughters would be born not only on the same homestead but in the same house. The family has even attended the same church, Liberty Baptist Church, for over 100 years.

This kind of tradition of establishing a family's roots and maintaining a family farm is the tradition honored each year as the Chamber of Commerce and the Washington County Farm Bureau select the Washington County Pioneer Farm Family of the Year. Families qualifying must have owned and operated their farm for a minimum of 100 years.

This year, Edward and Mary Ellen Brogdon of Lincoln are our Pioneer Farm Family. Mary Ellen's great grand father, Peter Luginbyhl (now spelled Luginbuel). purchased 80 acres near Dutch Mills just outside Lincoln, adding 40 more acres of the farm in 1890. His son, E.W., purchased all his brothers and sisters portions of the farm in 1911 following the death of his parents.

E.W.'s only daughter Anna was born on the family farm. Later she and her husband William Gibson "Bill" Venable, lived there, in rooms adjoining the original farmhouse. Bill and Anna, along with their two daughters, Mary Ellen and Anna Ruth, continued to operate the family farm, with Anna inheriting the farm in 1953.

Anna lived on the farm, in the same home in which she was born, until her death earlier this year. Her daughter, Mary Ellen, and Mary Ellen's husband, Edward Brogdon, continue to raise cattle and hay on the 120-acre homestead.

"This began as a family farm," Mary Ellen explained. "Peter came from Germany via Switzerland, eventually settling near Dutch Mills. In the tradition of arms a hundred years ago, they seem to have had a little bit of everything they needed for their own use. "Stories in a historical records indicate the family had "some hogs, goats and sold extra grain, "however mainstay of the Luginbuel farm was and still is cattle.

Chickens, ducks and horses also abound, but these are for Mary Ellen's enjoyment. Although not raised on a cattle farm, Ed seems quite at home bringing in hay, repairing tractors and "collecting things."

"We are so pleased to have been selected for this award," Mary Ellen said. "My only regret is that my mother isn't alive to receive it. Life here is pretty easy now. They lived here during the hard times when things weren't easy. My mother loved history. This award would have meant a lot to her.

John Gilbert Kimmer and Mary Ellen Venable had the following child:

155. i. LORIE ANN¹⁵ KIMMER was born on July 24, 1966. She married DAVID WAYNE JONES. He was born on October 30, 1963.
