TWENTY THIRD PSALM

The LORD is my Shepherd;
I shall not want.
He maketh me to lie down in
green pastures:
He leadeth me beside
the still waters.

He restoreth my soul:
He leadeth me in the paths
of righteousness for his name's sake.

Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death,
I will fear no evil:
for Thou art with me:
Thy rod and Thy staff
they comfort me.

Thou preparest a table
before me in the presence
of mine enemies:
Thou anointest my head with oil;
my cup runneth over.

Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me
all the days of my life:
and I will dwell in the house
of the LORD forever.

WHEN THE DOOR FINALLY OPENS

The door finally opened and now I can go.
I've waited for this since the day I was born.
I'm going to miss you, and I hope you miss
me,
But please don't be sad. I'm where I should be.

Like a cocoon. I'm free now to fly.
I merely changed over I didn't die.
The body I used to live on Earth
was simply a loan, a vessel of birth.
I'll still be with you, in all that you do,
loving and caring and watching for you.
I'll make myself known to you, from time to time.
You'll think of me then and remember a time
When we were together or something I said, You'll have to smile and then shake your head.

That'll be me, right there by your side,
Nudging and hugging you with my arms open wide.

Remember, I love you, and I always will.
I'll see you again, but it won't be until the door finally opens and you can go through...
I'll be the one that's waiting there for you.
