

Aaron David Davis

84 a resident of Farmington, Arkansas, passed away March 25, 2006 at his home. He was born March 12, 1922 at Erick, Oklahoma, the son of Samuel Thomas and Pearl George Davis.

He was a well-known saddle maker and horseman. He owned Davis Leather Harness and Saddle.

Aaron was preceded in death by two sons, Donnie Joe Davis and Roger Dale Davis and a daughter, Darla Jean Davis.

Survivors include his wife, Martha Davis of the home; two daughters, Jody Davis of Farmington, Arkansas, and Marion Davis Dunagan and her husband, Michael and their daughter, Sara all of Poteau, Oklahoma; one sister, Ruby Cochran of Greenwood, Arkansas; numerous other grandchildren and great grandchildren.

APPRECIATION

On behalf of the Davis family, we wish to express their gratitude for your many acts of kindness, and for your attendance at the funeral service.

Luginbuel Funeral Home
Prairie Grove, Arkansas

Aaron Davis

March 12, 1922 - March 25, 2006

The Common Ground

In the silent cemetery
Many friends have gone to wait
Until at last they all have gathered
There inside that unknown gate;
Friends and foes are likewise planted
In the sod, for all around
At last to all it will be granted:
They have come to Common Ground.

There the rich and poor together
Wait the day that ends all time;
Some for pleasures in Heaven's riches,
Some in sorrow of their crimes.
All at last do come together
In the sod, they all have found
That at last there is a place where
All can come to Common Ground.

And the ones that there have gathered
No distinctions, all are poor.
For the treasures they have hoarded
Can't come in that narrow door.
Everything of worldly riches,
All big names of such renown,
Are behind and they have nothing
Save the sod and clay around.

So the poor as well as any
Wait the end of time to bring
The accounts of all their lifetime
There before their God and King.
All together there in silence
No one great can there be found;
Each and all have come in muteness
To a final Common Ground.

M. W. Davis

- circa 1922

CELEBRATING THE LIFE & MEMORY OF Aaron David Davis

DATE, TIME & PLACE OF THE CELEBRATION OF LIFE SERVICE

Tuesday, March 28, 2006 – 10:00 A.M.
Luginbuel Chapel - Prairie Grove, Arkansas

ORDER OF SERVICE

Prelude Music

O Come, O Come, Emmanuel
We Gather Together - Amazing Grace by Novaria

Obituary

Audie Vaughn

"This World is Not My Home"

Jed Clampit

Eulogy

Family & Friends

Words of Comfort & Victory

Audie Vaughn

Closing Prayer

"Go Rest High On That Mountain"

Vince Gill

Family Memories Video

"The Water is Wide"
"My Life's Been Grand"

Jim Hendricks
George Strait

Postlude Music

MEMORIAL

Circle of Life Hospice
901 Jones Rd. - Springdale, Arkansas 72762
or
The charity of your choice

