Ronald E. (Buster) Dixon, 55, beloved son, father, brother and uncle passed away on Saturday, January 18, 2014.

Born in Lafayette, La to Caryl Long and Billy Joe Black in 1958 he was their eldest son. Buster was a military veteran who had the opportunity to travel to many different countries as well as much of the United States. He enjoyed the outdoors, especially fishing, he was an excellent sportsman, welder and mechanic. Buster was a longtime resident of the Northwest Arkansas area.

Buster's greatest joy was spending time with family and he was blessed to be surrounded by his mother, stepfather and numerous nieces and nephews in the region. Buster was loved greatly by all and his passing at such an early age has created a sadness which words cannot describe. In addition, Buster's sisters Kelli and Teena have lost a brother they spoke with often and loved dearly.

Buster is survived by his mother, Caryl and stepfather Larry Long of Westville, Ok., a son, Sean Dixon, sisters Kelli Rawls of Greer, SC, Teena Yauilla of Columbia, SC. and one aunt Darlene Dawkins of Derby Kansas.

In addition, Buster is survived by nieces Constance (Rawls) Tedford, Shannon Yauilla, Shauna Yauilla, Sarah Compton, nephews Dustin Yauilla, Christopher Rawls, Shannon Tedford and great-nieces and nephews Kelleykate, Cole, Sophie Grey, Kacey and Rhys.

Buster is pre-deceased by his brother, Guy Raymond Dixon, father Billy Joe Black and grandmother Johnnie Rae Perryman.
