

Violet Elizabeth Holt of Lincoln, went to be with her Lord and Savior on September 20, 2012 at the Willard Walker Hospice Home in Fayetteville. Proud to have reached the age of 97, she was born April 14, 1915 in Havana, Arkansas, to Charles Lewis and Loretta (Gray) Hollingsworth.

She was preceded in death by her husband of 59 years, Frank Edgar Holt. Violet is survived by her daughter, Beverly Jean and husband, Robert Earl Crudup; two grandsons, Barry Holt Crudup and his wife, Cheryl of Belton, Missouri and Bradley Earl Crudup and his wife, Janet of Magnolia, Texas. Violet is also survived by four great grandchildren: Megan, Lauren, Justin, and Kayla. Her sister, Jean Parker of Lincoln was her life-long companion.

Violet was actively involved in the First Presbyterian Church of Lincoln: as the organist for over 60 years, long-term treasurer of the women's circle, and as an Elder. She served her community by playing many cantatas, funerals and weddings. Violet was very involved in the community of Lincoln. She helped organize the first public library, was a teller at the Bank of Lincoln, and with husband Frank, was one of the founding members of the Arkansas Apple Festival. Violet and Frank were named Washington County Farm Family of the Year and were long-time apple, cattle and poultry farmers.

Violet Holt

April 14, 1915 - September 20, 2012

Weep not for me when I am gone,
 But think of me with love.
 No pain or problems linger on
 Though I'm with our Lord above
 I'll never really leave you
 I'm the sun each dawn,
 Each windsong and each drop of dew
 On the grass of the lawn.
 I'm each breeze to kiss your face,
 I'm each blossom on the ground
 Each churchbell calling you to grace.
 Each butterfly around.
 My love is in the rain that falls
 So gently on your head
 I am the nightengale that calls
 In the night where I'm lead.
 I'm in the whisper of the wind,
 The touch upon your cheek.
 The dusk that daily doth descend
 When Sol his bed must seek.
 I'm in the ripple of the stream
 That laughs as it goes by
 I give my love in each night's dream
 That fades as day is nigh.
 Weep not for me beside my grave
 I am not below
 Come celebrate with me: be brave
 For I'm with God, you know.
