

OLD RESIDENT DEAD

Funeral Held Saturday at Dutch Mills

--84 Years Old

William Riley Whitaker died at his home at Dutch Mills, Ark., Thursday evening June 13, 1907, from old age and disease which caused a complete breakdown of his physical constitution. He was 84 years old.

The funeral services were held Saturday morning at 10 o'clock in the Dutch Mills church and the interment took place in the cemetery at the same place.

The deceased has been a most highly respected citizen of this country for many years and he had a large number of friends who sustain a loss in his death. His wife died eight years ago.

Ten children are left to mourn his death and all have the sympathy of their friends in their great bereavement. Ben Whitaker of this city, James, William and John Whitaker, Miss Caroline Whitaker and Mrs. Mamie Pycatte of Dutch Mills, Jess of Evansville, Louis Whitaker, Mrs. R. A. Tuell and Mrs. Fine Wade of Stilwell.
